Traffic Mishaps in District Take Five Lives on Holiday

Doctor Too Ill For Quizzing, Brother Says

Cuyahoga Deputies Seek Details of How His Wife Was Slain

CLEVELAND (AP)—The brother of Dr. Samuel R. Sheppard said today the osteopath suffered a broken neck and is not yet "ready for questioning" on the murder of the latter's comely wife.

Dr. Stephen Sheppard, acting as his brother's physician, said X-rays had shown a slight fracture of the fifth vertebra, at the base of his brother's neck, and that he would have to wear a brace for six to eight weeks.

Claimed Hurt in Fight

The injured man told police he was hurt in a fight with the slayer of his wife, 31-year-old Marilyn Sheppard, whose pajama-clad body was found early Sunday in her bed in suburban Bay Village.

Her face was smashed by 25 blows from a heavy—but still unfound—weapon.

Deputy Sheriff Carl A. Rossbach said the injured doctor has been able to give only a hazy description of the events the night of the slaying.

Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Cuyahoga County coroner, said a stain on the trousers worn by the slain woman's husband would be examined to determine if it came from blood.

A white T-shirt he was wearing the night of the killing is still missing, police said.

Slugged on Neck

The physician previously told investigators he thought he heard his wife scream while he dozed on a downstairs couch. He said he started up the stairs and was slugged on the neck in the beginning of a battle which carried him to the yard and ended with his lying dazed on the beach.

He described the killer as a tall, middle - aged, bushy-haired man who wore a white shirt.

He said he returned to the house and found his wife's body, then blacked out for a time before he phoned a friend for help. The friend, Bay Village Mayor J. Spencer Houk, found him slumped against a chair in the living room.

Clues are slim in the case. Deputy Rossbach, who is directing the investigation, said he wants to get an electromagnet to aid in what so far has been a fruitless search for the murder weapon. He said the weapon, believed to have been a blunt object, may have been tossed in the lake.

A missing container holding a synthetic morphine has led to speculation that the killer ransacked the house for narcotics. The synthetic morphine was believed to have been in the osteopath's supplies.

Child Remains Asleep

Puzzling the investigators were reports that the Sheppards' seven-year-old son, Sammy, remained asleep in the room next to the one in which his mother was slain. The child, who has been told of his mother's fate, is staying with relatives.

Rossbach plans to question Sheppard further today. A noted Cleveland criminal lawyer, William J. Corrigan, visited his hospital room yesterday and advised that he answer no more questions unless counsel is present.

New Zealander Asks U.N. Seat For Red China

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Foreign Minister T. Clifton Webb tonight urged the admission of Communist China to the United Nations. New Zealand is linked with the United States in the Anzus pact and is a sponsor of the projected Southeast Asian defense Alliance.

Speaking in a parliamentary foreign affairs debate, Webb said the Peiping government should be brought into the international organization in an "endeavor to drive a diplomatic wedge between Russia and Red China."

Webb admitted he felt previously China should not be allowed in the U.N. until she worked her "way back into the good graces of the free world." But he said as a result of Chou En-lai's actions over Indochina "it would be hard to deny them entry." He did not elaborate.

"China is a great nation, a force to be reckoned with in world affairs," Webb declared, "together with Russia, the two countries occupy an enormous slice of territory and have nearly half of the world's population.

"We must look at our policy in the fight against communism and see it is in the right direction. We should endeavor to drive a diplomatic wedge between Russia and Red China and the first step would be its admission to the United Nations."

Findings Draw Fire

Probe Report Raps Justice Tom Clark

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee, in a disputed report, criticized Justice Tom C. Clark today for declining to testify after he joined the Supreme Court but said it had turned up no proof of wrongdoing by Clark while he was attorney general.

The document drew immediate fire from Rep. Byron G. Rogers (D-Colo), one of the five subcommittee members, who said Chairman Keating (R-N.Y.), pulled a "sneak play" by his "unwarranted political release . . . of his proposed libelous report."

Defends Clark

Rogers defended Clark, an appointee of former President Truman, and said most of the report had not been approved in subcommittee or even considered by the parent judiciary group.

The report, dealing with the subcommittee's inquiry last year into operations of the Justice Department, said the investigators were "troubled" because some controversial action were traced back to Clark. Clark was attorney general in 1945-49 before going to the Supreme Court.

Keating said in an accompanying statement that Clark's failure to testify was "unfortunate" because "we were deprived of the benefit of any light which might have been shed by a former member of President Truman's Cabinet."

Clark could not immediately be reached for comment. But Rogers called Keating's statement "completely baseless" and accused the New York Republican of violating his own fair play code in making the report public.

The 135-page printed report contained no signatures of subcommittee members in its major sections. At various points "Minority views" were contained under Rogers' name. Separate views were also entered by two congressmen who were members of the full committee but not the subgroup.

There was no explanation why the report, transmitted to the parent committee 11 month ago, has not yet been acted on there.

'No Conclusive Evidence'

The report said the subcommittee "found no conclusive evidence of wrongdoing by Justice Clark at any point during his service in the justice department." Then it said:

"It was troubled, however, by repeated suggestions in the testimony of his associate and subordinate that some of the actions for which they have been criticized were traceable, ultimately, to him.

"His testimony alone could have removed the last doubt that the responsibilities the subcommittee has placed on various department officials came to rest, in every case, on the right shoulders."

Junta Leaders Outline Policy For Guatemala

Arbenz' Pro-Leftist Regime Repudiated By Monzon and Armas

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemala's new government has turned its back on the Communist world in a bid to get on better terms with its Western Hemisphere neighbor.

Elfego Monzon and Carlo Castillo Armas, top colonels in the five-man junta, told a news conference yesterday their administration would reverse the policy of the ousted government ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and would refuse to deal with the Soviets or their Iron Curtain allies.

The colonels said Guatemala also would rejoin the Organization of Central American States (ODECA) and support the Organization of American State (OAS) and the United Nations.

This was considered an appeal for diplomatic recognition. So far two countries—Costa Rica and El Salvador—have served notice they will take up formal relations with the five-day-old military regime.

The leftist Arbenz government dropped out of ODECA last year accusing the other members of aggressive intentions toward Guatemala. Six weeks before Castillo's anti - Communist revolution top-

Mt. Gilead Co. Officers Weigh Purchase Offer

New York Resident Bids Million Dollars For Hydraulic Press

Possibility of the sale of the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. plant and facilities at Mount Gilead was announced today.

John C. Cotner, company president, said that the company has received an offer to purchase its assets at a price which would "yield a minimum of $17 per common share and $45 a share for preferred stock."

He said "a formal offer is being prepared for submission to the board of directors sometime late in July. If favorably acted on by them, the offer will be presented to the stockholders for their approval." The offer reportedly was near a million dollars.

As tentatively planned, the payments to the stockholders for their shares would be over a period of several months, according to Cotner.

"If such a sale takes place, there will be no change in the present management and company activities will continue to be carried out in Mount Gilead without material changes in policy or loss of identity of the present corporation," Cotner said.

While the statement released by Cotner made no mention who made the offer for purchase of the company, it was understood that a New York man, Frederick W. Richman, was the possible buyer.

Cotner said that a public statement on the proposed purchase of the company was prepared to spike rumors that the company has already been sold. He noted that there has been "no meeting of the minds" on the actual terms of the sale yet, although the possibility of such a sale under the conditions included in the company's statement is very real.

Czechs Grab 7 GIs; Report Offer of Deal

Border Police Claim Reds Seek Escapees Who Fled Labor Gang

BAERNAU, Germany (AP) — German border police said today Czech authorities have offered to swap seven U. S. soldiers arrested Sunday for three Czech freedom seekers. But U. S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg said it was not involved with the Czech escapees.

A U. S. Army headquarters spokesman said the Army was negotiating directly with Czech authorities for release of the Americans—six enlisted men and a captain on leave—seized on the East-West border while sightseeing.

Hope for Early Release

We hope we will be able to obtain release of the men soon and without difficulty," he added.

He called the three Czech escapees a "separate issue" and posed this question: "How can the border police negotiate for the return of U. S. soldiers?"

Buettner told newsmen he would have a second meeting with the Czechs at the border near here later today.

"We have been told by American authorities not to make any promises," he said.

He said the three Czechs who fled across are being held by the Germans in the Weiden area, near here. He said one was accused of murder by the Czech police.

He said four Czechs were present at the morning meeting. "There may have been more in the vicinity but they must have been hiding," he added.

U.S. authorities said earlier at Heidelberg that they were pressing for the release of the seven Americans. They refused to reveal their identities.

Army Statement

Army authorities said: "We are in communication with the Czechs and are trying to obtain the release of the men." They would not elaborate.

The Army said a half-ton weapons carrier truck in which the men had been driving was found abandoned late Sunday near the village of Weiden, about 15 miles from the Czechoslovak border.

A West German farmer in the area told the German police he saw the men Sunday. They asked where the border was and said they wanted to take a look at it.

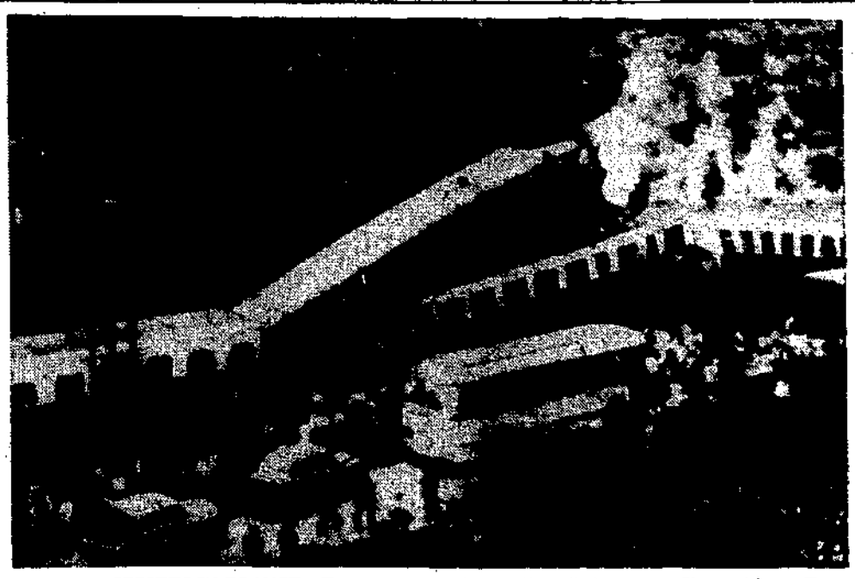
The police said the farmer told them they were very near the border and should be careful. The German said the last he saw of them, they had left their truck and started walking toward the boundary.

Church's 'Golden Hour' Hailed by Billy Graham

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham returned today from a tour abroad to declare:

"I feel that a spiritual awakening in Europe might save us from a third World War. I can't put into words the hunger of those people for God.

"For me, this is the golden hour of the church."



TRAGEDY STRIKES IN FRANCE. Four-car auto-rail train lies piled up near Chateaubourg, France, following crash with freight train. At least 34 persons, all vacationers, were killed in the tragedy, while more than 30 were reported injured. Rescue workers continued to probe through the wreckage the following day in search of more victims believed trapped in the debris. Railroad officials blamed crash on a faulty switch.

West To Grant Sovereignty to West Germans

U.S.-British Plans Drafted in Case French Fail To Ratify EDC

LONDON (AP)—The United States and Britain pushed ahead today with plans to give West Germany almost full sovereignty—including rearmament powers—in their two occupation zones if France does not ratify the European army plan.

Political and legal experts of the two Allied nations opened meetings at the Foreign Office yesterday to draft a program of joint U.S.-British action to be launched if the European Defense Community is not set up soon.

Proposals Studied

The conferences here are expected to conclude before the end of this week. Under study are proposals to:

1. Give the West German government almost complete independence in the American and British zones, including powers to raise a defense army.

2. Abandon the U. S.-British-French High Commission in Bonn and set up American and British embassies.

Such action would leave the French zone, in southwest Germany, the sole occupied territory in the federal republic and would put the French under acute German pressure to get out of that.

Ordered by Ike, Churchill

The drafting of plans here was ordered by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill at their meeting in Washington last week. They agreed then that West Germany should be given "its place as an equal partner in the community of western nations."

The French were not invited to take part in the talks here, the first such omission of France from joint Allied planning on Germany since the war.

Knowland Raises Big Issue

Reappraisal of Foreign Policy Launched by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is beginning a reappraisal of its foreign policy which may prove to be much more "agonizing" than Secretary of State Dulles foresaw.

Dulles was talking only about a reshaping of U.S. policies in Europe when he served notice on France several months ago that this country might undertake an "agonizing reappraisal." But now Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California has raised a far more sweeping issue over the possibility of United Nations membership for Red China.

'Go It Alone' Policy

The issue essentially is: At what point in it efforts to get along with allies should the United States decide the struggle is not worth the result, and strike out on its own?

What Knowland has proposed is that if United Nations members override America's objections and bring Red China in one U.N. door, the United States should walk out the other.

He has not claimed that this is an administration view. Indications are, in fact, that he would be opposed in the State Department. But he has said that he would resign the majority leadership and crusade for his proposal. He has asserted, furthermore, that he is getting many expressions of popular support.

Collective Security Sought

While some members of Congress have aligned themselves with Knowland, others have declared that U. S. policy toward Red China should not be frozen, and that withdrawal from the U.N. would be a grave error.

The whole purpose of U.S. postwar diplomacy has been to work with friendly nations in expecta-

Fleet of NATO Set for Major Maritime Drill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced today a major maritime exercise will be staged by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Channel Command July 16-25.

Ships and aircraft of the NATO forces will be provided by Belgium, France, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom. They will include about 20 destroyers, escort vessels and patrol craft and 45 minesweepers, as well as some 30 naval vessels and auxiliaries making up convoys. There will also be merchant ships in the convoys.

The "attacking" forces will include submarines from the Netherlands and the United Kingdom, fast patrol boats of the Norwegian, United Kingdom and Allied air forces in central Europe.

The convoys will be defended from "attack" by aircraft of the United Kingdom Coastal Command operating in conjunction with the surface escort. Surface and air forces will work in close conjunction throughout the exercise, the department said.

U.S. Expels 3 Red Agents on Spying Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Russian diplomats — one of them attached to the Soviet delegation at the United Nations — have been thrown out of the United States during the past six months on charges of spying.

The Russian government, the State Department claims, has now retaliated by making espionage charges against two members of the U.S. diplomatic mission at Moscow and forcing their withdrawal.

The two Americans are military officers, as were the two Russians ousted from the embassy here.

The State Department declined to disclose any of the evidence against the Soviets, but Press Officer Henry Suydam said, "We got the goods on them and out they went."

The incident which the State Department announced late yesterday, after months of silence on the ouster of the alleged Russian spies, had more than ordinary signifi-

Nevada Desert Jolted By Severe Earthquake

BERKELEY, Calif. —A "very strong" earthquake which would have caused widespread damage in a populated area shook the barren northwest Nevada desert early today.

It was centered near Fallon, Nev., where it toppled chimneys and cut off power.

Don Tocher, assistant seismologist at the University of California here, said the quake had a Richter magnitude of from 6¾ to 7. It was the biggest shock in this area since the Tehachapi - Bakersfield earthquake in July, 1952, which was rated at 7.45 on the Richter scale.

Tocher said the tremblor began at 4:41.11 a.m. and was recorded for 30 minutes.

Traffic Deaths Limited to 348 Over Holidays

By The Associated Press

Final figures on accidental deaths showed the July 4th week end to be far safer and saner than expected.

Traffic fatalities especially were well below indications, the total of 348 comparing with the forecast of 430 made by the National Safety Council. These totals were for the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said the comparatively low traffic toll was "spectacular evidence of a trend which has been apparent all this year. Every month has shown a decrease in traffic deaths from the same month last year.

"We are encouraged to believe combined efforts are bringing about better traffic behavior."

The council said its forecast had been compiled in the same way as in the past, based on experience with other holiday tabulations. The all-time high mark for a three-day July 4th week end was 366 in 1952.

Drownings and miscellaneous accidents, including fireworks, raised the violent death toll to 620. The Associated Press survey listed 189 drowned and 83 killed in miscellaneous accidents. Four in the miscellaneous category were from fireworks.

Mt. Vernon Man Killed by Uncle on Groundhog Hunt

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—A 30-year-old groundhog hunter was killed yesterday by a .22 caliber rifle bullet which pierced his heart, the office of Sheriff Paul Cochran reported today.

The victim was Charles Lohey of Mount Vernon. The shooting took place near Gambier. Sheriff's Deputy Ted Losey said the shot was fired by Loney's hunting companion, Charles Willis, 50.

Dr. C. L. Harmer, coroner, ruled Loney's death was "accidental homicide," but Willis was held for investigation.

Willis is Loney's uncle. He told sheriff's deputies both he and his nephew were seated on the ground when he saw a groundhog. He whirled and fired, but Loney was in the line of fire, Willis said.

Martel Man Dies in Crash Near Bucyrus

Kenton Father, Son, Marysville Resident Among Others Killed

Four Marion area residents and a woman from Chester in Meigs County were killed in three auto accidents on district highways Monday. Seven other persons were injured, two of them critically, in the mishaps.

Dead are:

Fay A. Welch, 25, of Marysville, killed in a one-car Delaware County accident.

Walter Hayes, 60, of near Martel and Mrs. Mildred Ridenour, 36, of Chester, killed in a head-on collision near Bucyrus.

Lester Latimore, 32, and his son Larry, 6, of Kenton, killed in a two-car crash one mile south of the Hardin-Logan County line.

Killed in Delaware County

Welch was killed when the car in which he was riding left the road on a straight stretch of State Route 4, two miles south of the Marion-Delaware County line Monday at 4:10 p.m.

Driver of the car was Carl D. Barry, 37, of Marysville, State highway patrolmen from the Marion post, said there was no apparent reason for the car to leave the highway. They said it left the road on the right side, swerved across the road and went off the left side, knocking down two posts and about 53 feet of farm fence owned by Howard Temple of near Marysville.

Welch was dead on arrival at Marion City Hospital. Barry and another passenger in his car, Lloyd Miller, 25, also of Marysville, were treated and released at the hospital. They both received lacerations of the head and neck.

Logan County Accident

Latimore and his son were killed on State Route 69, one and one-tenth miles south of the Hardin-Logan County line. According to patrol reports, Latimore's car collided head-on with one driven by Benson Huff, 25, of Waynesfield.

The accident left two other passengers in Latimore's car in critical condition at the Mary Rutan Hospital in Bellefontaine.

Patrolmen from the Bellefontaine post said Huff was apparently rounding a curve headed west on the wrong side of the highway. The impact threw Latimore's vehicle backward into a ditch on the south side of the highway.

Huff's car flipped over once, then slid into a ditch on the north side of the road.

Latimore was killed intantly, and his son, Larry, 6, died on the way to the hospital. Both received broken necks. In addition, Latimore received a fractured left femur.

Taken to the hospital in critical condition were Latimore's wife,

A Marion man was slightly injured in one accident investigated by state patrolmen. Victor Power, 43, of 321 Olney Ave. received a bad bruise of the left ankle but did not require treatment.

He was hurt when the car driven by his wife, Mrs. Marguerite Power, went off the road and struck a ditch as she turned onto County Road 141 Sunday at 5:30 p.m. The accident happened one and six-tenths miles east of State

Church Activities

The Green Camp Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met Wednesday afternoon. Preceding the regular meeting a prayer meeting was held in the church sanctuary with Mrs. Ida Lanius as leader. The regular meeting was held in the church basement. The prelude was played by Mrs. Vernon Davis. Mrs. John Lanius led the group with devotions.

In charge of the program were Mrs. John Slack, Mrs. J. W. Spears, and Mrs. Ida Lanius. The business meeting followed with the president, Mrs. LeRoy Schrote, in charge. It was voted to send five members to Lakeside for the annual WSCS School of Instruction. The five members elected were Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mrs. John Slack, Mrs. John Lanius, Mrs. Edwin Schwaderer, and Mrs. Clyde Powelson.

Two committees were appointed. Serving on the flower committee will be Mrs. Ralph Bish and Mrs. Alice Reynolds. On the dinner committee are Mrs. Ida McNeal and Mrs. Sperry Long. Mrs. Schrote closed the meeting with the benediction.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Norman Roettger, Mrs. Dwight Hedges and Mrs. Ralph Baily.

Minister Born as Slave Hails Segregation Rule

WASHINGTON (UP) — A 101-year old Negro, born a slave, greeted the U. S. Supreme Court's unanimous ruling on segregation with a fervent "thank God!"

Rev. H. J. Callis, born a slave in Matthews County, Va., said, "I've lived through the Civil War and saw the passage of the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendments to the constitution."

When told by his daughter, Mrs. Alice C. Hunter, a member of the District of Columbia recreation board, that segregation in public schools had been ruled unconstitutional, he commented:

"We all knew that, but thank God! It's a good day."

SARONG HAPPY

DJAKARTA — (UP) — What type of movie is most popular in tropical Indonesia? Djakarta audiences go for most American movies, but the theater owner who wants a sellout night after night is the man who books a South Sea island picture with plenty of sarongs, palm trees, beaches, moonlit water and a hurricane or two thrown in for good measure.

North America has about 225 million people.

Roses Topic For Garden Club Affair

Members of the Garden Path Garden Club named a favorite rose and gave its classification when they responded to roll call Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Myron Ferry on E. Church St. The meeting opened with the Gardener's Grace and a brief business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Richard Taylor.

Speaker for the program was James Beal who discussed roses and gave valuable hints on how they are grown. Colored movies of the Jackson Perkins Rose farm and gardens at Newark, N. Y., were shown. Plans were made for a picnic for members and their families Aug. 7 at the park in Marysville.

Following the program there was a social hour and refreshments. The serving table, lighted with tapers, was decorated with yellow flowers and greenery. Presiding were Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Richard Garfield. Mrs. James Beal was a guest.

CIO Says U.S. Needs Wage Hikes, Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wage increases and income tax cuts, the CIO says, are what's needed to give a lift "badly needed for a sagging economy."

Citing Commerce Department figures showing the nation's wage and salary income dropped from 202 billion dollars last August to 193 billion dollars in April, the CIO publication Economic Outlook said yesterday the best way to halt this "recession" is to put more money in the hands of the consumer.

The Congress

By George Sokolsky

If the Democrats revive Harry Truman's slogan, "A Do-Nothing Congress," in the 1954 campaign, they will be using against President Eisenhower a charge that the Republicans will find it very difficult to answer. The real trouble with the Congress, since Robert A. Taft died, is that no leadership has taken his place The reason is that such senators as Styles Bridges or William Knowland, who are the logical leaders, have never enjoyed the confidence of the President or of the Dewey clique that manages the White House politically.

It might have been assumed that the Republicans, who are the majority party without a working majority, would have united for common action The President tried to unite them by use of the word 'team," which, in fact, proved offensive to most of the older senators who are chosen to office to represent their states and who have no tradition of being quarterbacked.

THEN THE THEORY was developed that the party was controlled by a "leadership" This ambiguous term made little impression on the older Republican senators, all of whom are leaders in their own right or they would not have been elected to the Senate

When it appeared that the" leadership" was not a liaison between the President and the Senate but included persons who were neither of the executive nor legislative branches, outsiders such as John J. McCloy and Lucius Clay, whose judgment the President trusted, the offense became greater in the eyes of the Republican senators

It is traditional in American politics that each branch of Congress chooses its own leaders; the president may influence such a choice within his own party but he must do it delicately.

Franklin D. Roosevelt succeeded in breaking this tradition, but Roosevelt was an unusually skillful politician who could do many things that others imitate at their peril.

When the senators discovered that the President was operating on a General Staff basis, that Sherman Adams was chief of staff, that they had to reach the President through Adams or through members of his staff, who are called "Legislative Liaison," they were resentful.

WHILE OTHER presidents have employed the same device of "Legislative Liaison" assistants, high-ranking members of the Senate could reach the president swiftly and intimately. This has not been easy with President Eisenhower

Senators have told me that when they see the President, he will only discuss what is on the agenda but does not like general conversations.

Senators are not accustomed to being limited in this manner, particularly when the president is of their own party.

Into this breach stepped the vice president, Richard Nixon, with unexpected effectiveness. He assumed responsibility for settling quarrels, for bridging unpleasant personal differences. Nixon was emerging as the leader of his party in the Senate and a prospective candidate for the presidency.

Then the Dewey clique turned on him and gradually Nixon's influence began to evaporate in the White House.

This unfortunately happened during the McCarthy-Stevens hearings when the strongest leadership was necessary to prevent this particular quarrel from splitting the Republican party irrevocably and from scuttling the Eisenhower legislative program.

FOR INSTANCE, the Eisenhower tariff bill was killed as part of this split, but most Republicans felt that had there been a proper meeting of the minds, no radical tariff bill would have been presented this year.

The real difficulty is that the President conceives his office as something different from the American tradition True, the President of the United States is President of the whole people, but he is elected as a partisan and so far as Congress is concerned, he belongs to the party which nominated him

A bipartisan or a non-partisan president is ananomaly in the American system. Dwight D Eisenhower apparently dislikes partisan politics and politicians, but the political life of the United States is organized on the two-party system and Congress is not organized to function on any other basis.

The split in the Republican party has left Congress leaderless and hopelessly bogged down in very important matters of legislation

This manifests itself more in the Senate than in the House of Representatives. In the Senate, such elder statesmen as Bridges, Bricker, Knowland and others realize that the President does not favor them but prefers to hand-pick his senatorial favorites. They resent it.

TOWER TOUR. A yeoman warder points out a feature of the Tower of London to members of the Smith College Chamber Singers during a stop on their European concert tour

Labor Aids Dewey

By Victor Riesel

Gov Thomas E. Dewey may yet get another chance to bid for the Republican presidential nomination, and dramatically enough, an influential group of labor leaders may make that possible.

RIESEL

This springs from the facts of political life in New York — that Tom Dewey is expected by the informed ones to run for governor again this year against Franklin D Roosevelt Jr, who doesn't quite provoke as much enthusiasm inside labor as his Dad did. FDR Jr, is now practically the candidate of the CIO and its friends inside the Democratic party

But right now in the highest national and state AFL circles, the Federation's policy makers are seriously considering endorsing Gov Dewey. In fact, in some quarters the report is that these AFL chiefs already are committed help he gave them in their battle on the New York waterfront If this happens at least two politically influential money raising unions traditionally New Deal, will sit out the campaign, thereby indirectly aiding Dewey

So, Democratic leaders are therefore energetically trying to avert such a crisis by getting New York City's Mayor Robert Wagner to take the nomination away from FDR, Jr

However the word is that many AFL leaders will back Dewey anyway regardless of who is the Democratic candidate. Thus, on two coasts, AFLers will be campaigning for Republican gubernatorial candidates — in California, where they are backing Gov Goodwin Knight, and in New York This is bound to have an effect on Congressional and Senatorial polls —and may strengthen the GOP in Congress . .

THE HOUSE UN - AMERICAN Activities Committee has a real big fish hooked on one of its subpenas The Velde plobers soon will call in one John Steuben, to question him about the pro-Communist magazine, "March of Labor," which he edits. It is through this publication that he hands down the line to the Sovieteering labor outfits in our critical defense production plants and metal and uranium mines.

But John Steuben, who has been under deportation orders for some three years, has a lot more global stuff in his head He is an old Red China hand He worked with Mao Tse-tung before being assigned to the U S labor front The committee also seeks Len De Caux, whom Phil Murray dumped out of CIO's public relations division for following "The Line"

Just look in Chicago, gentlemen. And ask De Caux about the Orient, too. He knows.

A TOLEDO FIRM HAS begun to put part of the capitalist system right in the hands of its workers — on the installment plan

This corporation, the DeVilbiss Co, producers of spray painting pressure and nozzle equipment, decided to sell this capitalist system of ours to its workers by getting them to invest in the stock market piecemeal First the company got a broker Then it got Stock Exchange permission Then it sent stock folders to its employes — and suggested that they buy whichever securities they want by directing the company to withhold from their pay part payment for such shares

When the payroll deductions — which are handled just as government savings bond withholdings are — reach $40, the brokerage house buys the stocks the workers want The DeVilbiss Co makes no profit But if this precedent-making policy spreads across country — they will be making "Wall Streeters" out of Main Streeters

The struggle for Latin America is far from over The Comintern long ago discounted Guatemala The Soviet stategists knew they couldn't hold it once they moved blatantly up front They just wanted to put us in a position of "imperialistically" overthrowing a small nation's government

THE LATIN SECTION of the Comintern still is powerful in Chile, Venezuela, British Guiana and on many a Caribbean Isle This puts their apparatus astride our rocket, radar and guided missile ranges and bases — not more than several hours flight from the Panama Canal.

The Commies control many of the student bodies at the universities, as well as the workingmen's groups Even in Honduras itself, from which the anti-Communist revolt against Guatemala was launched, the Party was able to whip up anti-U S demonstrations

Once again, as this column has pointed out for years, the Communists' basic strength is on the labor front If we don't win the unions away from them, Guatemala will be repeated in other Latin lands — including Mexico The AFL plans to send its Latin expert, Serafino Romualdi, to Guatemala in a few days to help the anti-Communists there set up a new labor movement — one friendly to the U S.

NOW THAT IT'S ALL OVER, doesn't that Southern Senator, who spent two days in Guatemala during the last week in December 1952, feel foolish? He congratulated the pro-Communist government for its struggle against "foreign companies" which seek to "exploit" that country. He attacked U.S corporations. Who wrote that speech for him?

He then returned to the U S and after the new Senate session started in 1953 he fought to slash the appropriations for the Senate subcommittee on Internal Security and the Government Operations Subcommittee And who do you think fought back? Who do you think said we should spend more?

Sen Wayne Morse of Oregon, no less Said he

"We should spend all the money we need investigating subversives"

And Morse added that the requests for such funds actually might not be enough!

German Industries Attempting To Gain Spot in World Market

FRANKFURT (UP) — German business men and technicians, thinking today of markets 20 years from now, are engaging in myriad activities extending around the world and including such small and relatively unknown countries as Yemen

Big-name firms as well as others which seldom have been heard of pass up no chance to open world markets which Hitler's policy of "autarky" and World War II had closed to Germans.

Reports on these German activities are often short and inconspicuous such as the recent one from New Delhi

"The Indian government, on advice from its German consultants, will locate its first 500,000-ton steel plant at Rourekela in Orissa state The Krupp-Demag experts decided on the site because of nearby iron ore deposits"

But probably even more than India, the Near and Middle East, crisis-ridden and suspicious of any of the great powers, seem to take an increased interest in German business offers

Recently it became known that the Egyptian government is considering an agreement with a German firm granting it concessions to cultivate considerable areas of the western desert near the Cairo-Alexandria highway It was expected the firm would use the land to grow tobacco, tomatoes, and beets for export to Germany

It was a surprise to economy experts to learn that tiny Yemen, a country ruled by one family, is contemplating granting an unidentified German firm a concession to drill for oil

Probably the greatest success of post-war Germany on the world market was the Volkswagen the small automobile now being sold in virtually all free European countries as well as in India Indonesia, Ceylon, Thailand, Ireland, South Africa and Brazil

Where high customs and tariffs make import of the automobile virtually impossible, assembly plants are being established with local labor doing most of the work

Australia soon will have its own Volkswagen plant which ultimately should be able to turn out 1,000 units a month

In Brazil and other Latin American countries, German steel experts are busy helping governments and private firms to streamline production, and there is hardly a German diplomat leaving for South America who does not consult with German business experts prior to his departure.

Official and private observers in the Middle East keep a watchful eye on Egypt and India where there are plans for the construction of huge power plants which should enable both countries to make tremendous progress toward industrialization What Krupp and Demag experts are to steel, Siemens electricians are to power, and it is no longer a secret that Siemens will be offered a part in the building of a huge power plant in India.

But German producers not only look for new markets, they also see to it that German products are shipped on German-built cargo vessels flying the German flag

While in the United Kingdom and the United States the post-war shipbuilding boom appears to have passed its peak, output in the shipyards of Europe continues to grow This is notably so in Germany where tonnage built for home and export increased in one year by 298 000 tons

Today, Germany whose cargo fleet was mostly destroyed during the war or sailed under the flags of the countries entitled to German reparations is in 11th place in Lloyds of London's gross tonnage list Germany's gross tonnage was 1,749,543 tons by the end of 1953

The West German federal republic is one of the world's greatest exporters, running in third place behind the United States and Great Britain Last year West Germany's exports totaled $4,400 000,000 as compared with the United States $16,000,000,000 and Britain's $7,500,000,000

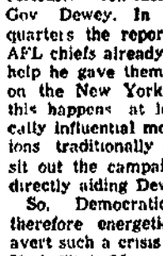
Quotes on Liberty

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

The big problem facing millions of Americans today is "How can I go back to the daily rut?"

Some worn out by the long holiday weekend, are overwhelmingly anxious to return as quickly as possible to the security and order of their job in factory or office



HAL BOYLE

Freedom is a great thing — no doubt of it—but it has meant to them nothing in the last three days but traffic jams, indigestion, sunburn, crying children and mosquito bites. The only place they would like to go this morning other than to the office is to a restful hospital on a quiet street

OTHERS, HOWEVER, have been spoiled by the ecstatic freedom that went with the 178th anniversary of American Independence They hate the idea of returning to responsibility and yearn to run barefoot and kneedeep in liberty until the snow flies.

No matter what your attitude toward getting back into harness may be, you will find some consolation or grounds for self pity in the following literary aspirins for your holiday-wounded mind

"It is not good to have too much liberty It is not good to have all one wants"—Blaise Pascal

"I tell you, liberty is the best of all things, never live beneath the noose of a servile halter"—Sir William Wallace

Reds in Italy Hit Alleged Remark by Ambassador Luce

ROME, Italy (AP)—The Communists are needling Italy's government again about something U S Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce is supposed to have told newsmen in America

Red party boss Palmiro Togliatti told the Chamber of Deputies Mrs Luce arriving in America recently for a vaction, told reporters Italy plans to intensify the "struggle against communism"

Such a formal demand requires a reply by Scelba or Piccioni

Last winter a large group of Communist and left-wing senators asked, without success, that the government declare Mrs Luce unacceptable They charged her with criticizing Italy in a conference with Washington newsmen

GOP's Record Better, Claims Sen. Knowland

Republican Congress Has Done More Than Democrats, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Knowland (R-Calif) said today any fair appraisal by the voters will credit the Republican-controlled Congress with more accomplishments than any which operated under recent Democratic presidents.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said in a separate interview that while some important measures have been approved or seem likely to be, he thinks the Republicans have "come up with nothing new."

With the July 4 holiday breather behind them, lawmakers start work today on the last lap of a session President Eisenhower has said he is confident will produce a constructive program.

Points To Quality

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he thinks the voters who will decide on party control of the Senate and House at the polls in November are going to be impressed by the quality of legislation, rather than the quantity.

"I have never believed the public was enthusiastic about having a great volume of legislation," he said. "I think the people are more interested in the proper administration of government and that is what they are getting under the Republicans.

"Any fair appraisal must be that this Congress has enacted more bills of national importance than anything done in the last several presidential terms."

He said the program for the scheduled final four weeks of this session will be reviewed at a White House conference of congressional leaders with Eisenhower tomorrow.

'Nothing New' Charged

Sparkman, the Democratic vice presidential nominee in 1952, said in support of his thesis that the GOP has produced "nothing new" that the groundwork for social security legislation which is expected to get final approval before Congress quits at the end of the month was laid by studies under the Truman administration.

He chided the administration for what he called a "surrender" on Eisenhower's proposal for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, with authority to lower tariffs further. The President later said he would settle for a one-year extension and would press for the broader program next year. The one-year extension has now become law.

The lawyer said he had not been retained "in any way" in the case, but visited the osteopath at the request of a friend, another attorney who represents Bay View Hospital.

Sheppard and his wife were high school sweethearts and were married in 1945 while he was interning in Los Angeles. They were expecting another child next fall.

The proposed purchase of the company comes during its 77th anniversary year. Officially started in 1877, the company was literally a result of a desire of an Edison man for a better method of pressing juice from apples for cider.

He was Augustus Q. Tucker. He designed a hydraulic press for pressing out the apple juice and from this beginning went on to develop and found the HPM Corp.

Since then, the company has reached the top in its field of hydraulic press manufacturing. It is the only builder of a completely integrated press, including the frame, radial pumps, valves and controls.

The company now has a wholly-owned subsidiary organized two years ago in The Netherlands for servicing the western Europe area, and only the first of this year completed an expansion project at its Mount Gilead plant.

MISTAKEN INJECTION

MOMASU, Japan (UP)—Health officials in this tiny atomic-jittery fishing village expected much opposition from residents when anti-dysentery shots were to be given. But the villagers lined up 100 per cent. "We all want to receive this injection," one elderly man explained, "which prevents radiation sickness."

SHIRT TALE

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (UP)—The man Mrs. Ruth Hays spotted coming out of a laundry here was really down to his last clean shirt. When he reached his automobile, he quickly took off the shirt he was wearing and put on one from the bundle he had just brought from the laundry.

Rosebrough told patrolmen he went to a service station to call the officers. While he was gone, Robison left. Robison was apprehended several hours later in Upper Sandusky by Wyandot County sheriff's deputies. He was charged with unsafe operation, and will appear in Marion Municipal Court at a later date.

Ballistic Report Awaited In Kenton Shooting Case

KENTON — While ballistics tests are being made at the London Prison Farm crime laboratory, a 48-year-old Columbus truck driver is being detained by authorities here in the 11-day-old case of the Philip Wisse shooting.

On a tip from an undisclosed source the Columbus man was arrested at his home Saturday by Columbus detectives. He was turned over to Sheriff Clarence Brown of Kenton.

A .38-caliber revolver was found in the glove compartment of the truck together with a box of ammunition which was minus a shell. The suspect admitted buying the gun at a Columbus store and having it mailed to a woman friend in Kenton. Bullets from his gun are being compared with a bullet which struck Wisse in the shooting which occurred June 25. The condition of the victim was reported today as "not very good" by San Antonio Hospital.

cance because of the policy situation which is developing among Russia and the Western Powers.

The Kremlin has been making a big play for British and French cooperation in an obvious effort to place heavy strains on the Western alliance. Every evidence of difficulty between Washington and Moscow coming at such a time carries the risk of widening Western differences by emphasizing differing relations with the Soviet Union.

The two Americans whom the Russians accused of having engaged in "espionage work" are Lt. Col. Howard L. Felchlin of New York City and Arlington, Va., who was assistant military attache at the Moscow Embassy, and Maj. Walter McKinney of Santa Cruz, Calif., the assistant air attache. The Soviets declared them "persona non grata" or unwelcome on July 3. The United States rejected the charge as "baseless" in a note yesterday, but it informed Russia they would be withdrawn.

Maj. McKinney is on vacation outside Russia and will not return. Col. Felchlin will leave the Soviet capital Thursday. He will fly to Berlin with Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, who is going on a month's leave.

Foreign Policy

tion of greater security through collective strength.

But in the past year the process has become increasingly difficult. France has persistently delayed action on a European defense treaty which would make West Germany independent and rearm it. It was to prod the French into action that Dulles spoke of a possible agonizing reappraisal.

Now the long-impending danger of a break with Britain over Red China is becoming much more acute. This, coupled with the probability that France will recognize the Chinese Reds as part of an Indochina peace deal, has forced the issue of Red China's membership to the fore again.

There is great opposition in the Eisenhower administration and in Congress to letting Communist China into the U.N. The question thus arises: What should the United States do about it if Allied nations force it anyway

The present answer to that question in the State Department, so far as it can be pinned down, is that the United States should stick with the U.N. and its allies whatever happens.

Policy Challenged

But Knowland, by giving an answer of an entirely opposite nature, posed the issue whether Red China policy may not mark the breaking point with the Allied governments. Taken in conjunction with Dulles' restudy of European policy on which State Department officials have been quietly at work for some time, this raises a fundamental question of what basic American foreign policy should be like in the future.

There have been enough recent debates on foreign policy to make it clear that the choise of basic direction is limited to about four possibilities. Those are:

1. Preventive war — The Truman administration repudiated this possibility when it was widely talked about several years ago. The Eisenhower administration has committed itself to a policy of peace. Yet in some official quarters the idea of making war on Russia occasionally pops up, the argument being that the West presumably holds an edge. But the idea is foreign to all U.S. traditions. And the European nations are frightened to death of the whole idea of war and could not be counted on to provide any support for such a policy.

2. Western Hemisphere fortress —This concept was much talked about in the early debate preliminary to the 1952 election. The idea was that United States has ample power and resources for its own defense, that its allies are not too dependable anyway, and that if they cannot stand on their own feet they cannot forever be propped up. This notion was disputed by those who contend that the United States is dependent on many vital raw materials from foreign sources and that it could not exist as the powerful nation it is without cooperation of countries outside the Americas.

Island Strategy

3. Island strategy — This concept, representing a kind of bridge between the "fortress" policy and the policy of alliances—fits with many of the facts of America's position in the world today but does not embrace all of them. Essentially it holds that America's best allies are those on islands—Japan, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Britain. By extension it would include stout anti-Communist nations like Spain and South Korea—both peninsulas. It does not make provision, however, for a defense in the heart of Europe based on either Germany or France. It is in line with some speculation at the State Department that an alternative to a French-German reconciliation is a peripheral strategy, meaning a system based around the rim of Europe in places like Britain, Spain and Italy.

4. Security through strength — This is the policy which the Truman and Eisenhower administrations have both followed. It depends for its success on strong and reliable allies and on getting along with them. It has cost the United States many billions of dollars in military and economic assistance and it is the policy which administration officials presently intend to pursue to the limit.

Nevertheless, it is also the policy which would have to undergo the acid test of congressional and public support in any future great debate. And such a debate seems certain to develop by the end of the year if Britain, France and many other nations join with Russia and various cold war neutrals to vote Red China into the U.N., and if France meanwhile persists in blocking the European Defense Community with Germany.

Patrolmen of Marion Post Make 108 Arrests

State patrolmen from the Marion post were kept busy over the holiday weekend as they recorded a total of 108 traffic arrests from noon Friday until midnight Monday.

Patrolmen also investigated seven accidents in the area, including three in Marion County during that period. Of those seven accidents, one was a fatal mishap in which one man was killed. There were also two personal injury accidents.

Cpl. D. M. DeWalt, commander of the patrol post here, said the heavy enforcement policy helped to cut down the number of accidents.

Architects Inspect Seminole Buildings

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—(UP) — A University of Florida professor says architects have learned a lot of valuable lessons from the Seminole Indans about the right way to build a house in Florida.

Dr. William T Arnette, dean of the College of Architecture, explained that the traditional Seminole houses get the full advantages of Florida's climate by providing a living space completely open to the breeze and at the same time protecting the interior from sun and rain by a wide palmetto thatch roof.

Dr. Arnette added that modern architecture in Florida is following the same principle by disregarding the "customary distinction between walls, windows and doors. Walls on the south or east side of the house are of the folding or roll-back variety so that the house can be completely opened to the breeze."

"We are seeing the prototypes of what may well be a new, but yet ancient, architecture," he concluded.

Right Methods Needed For Automatic Washing

LINCOLN, Neb.—(UP)—Women no longer sing the Monday wash day blues, according to Harriet Brigham, home economist at the University of Nebraska

Thanks to equipment developments, washing is less of a dreaded chore. But she said, "modern machines will give full returns only if the right methods are used with them."

She recommended doing a little washing every day instead of a lot at once. This, she said is "less of a tax on the hot water supply, on the space for storage of clothes"

The specialist also said that many women have found that frequent washings reduce the quantity of clothes needed for children.

Geiger Counter Finds Allergies

CHICAGO (UP) — Geiger counters, originally invented to measure radioactivity, now are on the trail of allergies.

Doctors think they can find out what happens in the body of an allergy victim when he swallows or inhales or touches the substance he is sensitive to, thanks to the counter.

"It's a simple laboratory trick," said Dr. Samuel M Feinberg, head of allergy research at Northwestern University, "to attach a radioactive iodine molecule to a protein, thus making the protein 'labelled' or 'tagged.'

"Then, when the protein is injected into the system of a guinea pig or a human being, the molecule can be recognized anywhere in the body by the "click-click' on the magic lantern of the Geiger counter machine brought near to it."

One of the puzzles in developing a treatment for allergic diseases has been to locate the tissue in the human body where the allergic reaction takes place By using the tagged proteins and a Geiger counter, doctors hope to find this spot.

Municipalities Planning Record Public Spending

CHICAGO—(UP)—A survey of 141 cities and towns shows that they plan to spend nearly $5,000,000,000 on public improvements during the next five years.

The survey was conducted for the President's Council of Economic dvisers by the American Municipal Association, the American Society of Planning Officials, the International City Managers' Association and the Municipal Finance Officers Association.

The total to be spent was set at $4,868,691,000 About 36 per cent of this is represented in definite plans and specifications that are 50 per cent complete, the survey showed.

Plans are most advanced for city streets and roads, followed by plans for storm and sanitary sewers.

The groups conducting the survey said it indicates a high level of public construction during the next five years

Women Smoke in Bed More Often Than Men

BOSTON (UP) — More women than men engage in the hazardous practice of smoking in bed, the Institute For Safer Living reports.

A nationwide survey revealed that 54 per cent of women smokers do this as against only 46 per cent of men smokers.

"So many men and women drop off to sleep while smoking that the practice is rapidly becoming the nation's No. 1 peril in the category of fires caused by matches and thoughtless smoking," the institute warned.

Bill Glynn Sheds 'No Hit' Tab With Three Homers

First Sacker Nets 8 RBI's In Opener; Mossi Shaded

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bill Glynn, the fancy-fielding, 28-year-old first baseman from New Jersey, was the talk of the Tribe today. And a couple of weeks ago it looked as though he'd be nailed to the bench for the rest of the season.

Glynn, a .250 hitter who had only six homers in 270 games since he came up to the majors late in the 1952 season, swatted three home runs in a row off three different Detroit pitchers in the opener of yesterday's double header.

The Tribe won 13-6, with Glynn batting in eight of the runs, but then lost an 11-inning nightcap 1-0 to the three-hit pitching of one-time Tribesman George Zuverink.

The defeat cut Cleveland's margin over second-place New York to 3½ games and over third-place Chicago to six games as the Indians reach the halfway point in their schedule here tonight. Early Wynn is slated to seek his 10th victory against the Baltimore Orioles, whose probable pitcher, Joe Coleman, has the same record as Wynn, 9-6.

Glynn's first homer was a third-inning grand - slam off Ralph Branca, who relieved starter Ned Garver. In the fifth, with Hal Naragon on by a bunt, Glynn whammed a round-tripper off southpaw Ted Gray. He led off the seventh by blasting a Dick Weik pitch into the upper deck. All three homers were to right field.

When Glynn came up in the eighth, the bases were full again. Even the Detroit fans were cheering to see him equal an all-time record of four homers in one game—something six other players have accomplished in all of baseball history.

He hit the ball hard on this try for No. 4—as hard as any of his trio of homers—but Bill Tuttle after a long run hauled it down in center field. Wally Westlake scoring after the catch.

Art Houtteman, who replaced Dave Hoskins in the fourth after Ray Boone and Wayne Belardi hit successive homers, pitched the rest of the way and got credit for the victory, his ninth against four losses.

Larry Doby's string of homers in five straight games ended in the opener, and in the nightcap the Tribe's winning string of eight games was stopped.

Southpaw Don Mossi and Zuverink each had three-hit shutouts at the end of 10 innings, and there was one out in the last of the 11th when Kuenn parked his third homer of the season in the left field stands.

Casey Picks 2 Cleveland Mound Aces

CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, who will manage the American League team in the annual All-Star Game at Cleveland July 13, named eight pitchers for the battle today.

The others are Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of Cleveland; Bob Keegan and Virgil Trucks of the Chicago White Sox; Bob Porterfield of Washington; Allie Reynolds of New York; and Bob Turley of Baltimore.

The American League released Stengel's choices along with the other players who, with the eight starters selected in a poll of fans, will represent the league.

The eight American League starters, announced Sunday night, are Al Rosen, Cleveland, first base; Bobby Avila, Cleveland, second base; Ray Boone, Detroit, third base; Chico Carrasquel, Chicago, shortstop; Orestes Minoso, Chicago, left field; Mickey Mantle, New York, centerfielder; Hank Bauer, New York, right field; and Yogi Berra, New York, catcher.

Each of these eight top vote veterans must, according to the regulations governing the game, start and play a minimum of three innings.

For possible use in later innings, Stengel chose the following players to round out his 25-man squad

Catcher—Sherman Lollar, Chicago.

Infielders—Ferris Fain, Chicago; Jim Finigan, Philadelphia; Nelson Fox, Chicago; George Kell, Chicago; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit.

Outfielders—Larry Doby, Cleveland; Jim Piersal, Boston; Ted Williams, Boston.

Stengel presumably stacked a right-handed pitcher deck because of the National League's rough lineup of right-handed batters, at least in the fans' lineup. It includes Gran Hamner of Philadelphia, Ray Jablonski of St. Louis, Al Dark of New York, Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn—all righthanders and all, with the possible exception of Dark, respected sluggers.

The pitchers and other members of the National League squad will be named by Manager Walt Alston of Brooklyn in Wednesday morning papers.

South African Boby Locke's biggest golf victory in this country came in 1947, his first year in America, when he won the All-American title at Tam O'Shanter. He beat Ed Oliver in a playoff and won $7,000.

THE GLOVE GOES TOO. Ed FitzGerald, Washington Senators' catcher, not only drops the ball in trying to tag Grady Hatton of the Boston Red Sox, but loses his glove as well in this sixth inning play in first game of doubleheader at Washington. FitzGerald was charged with an error on the throw from second baseman Johnny Pesky. This run was one of the eight the Red Sox scored in 6th inning.

FOP Teen Loop Entry Defeats Morral's Nine

Marion's Fraternal Order of Police nine withstood a five-run rally in the fifth and two runs in the sixth for an 8-7 victory over Morral in a Teen League contest last night at Morral.

Starter Butch Simpson and Gallimore, who relieved him in the final frame, combined to hold the Morral crew to three hits. Simpson gave up two hits while striking out 16 while Gallimore was touched for one hit and struck out one.

Johnson went the distance for Morral, giving up nine hits. He fanned seven, walked six and hit two batsmen.

The locals picked up the win by netting a run in the second, another in the third, four in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Morral cored most of its runs with the help of wildness on the part of Marion hurlers. Five runs in the fifth were netted on two hits and four bases on balls. One of the hits in the inning was a home run by Forry, Morral catcher. Two runs in the sixth came on no hits and a pair of walks.

In all, the Marion hurlers gave up 11 walks.

Simpson and Burns had a pair of hits for the locals while Williams, Bumgarner, Messner, White and Barrett, added one each. Johnson, Forry and Moore netted the Morral safeties.

Glynn's Trio First

CLEVELAND (AP)—First baseman Billy Glynn of the Indians is the first American Leaguer to hit three home runs in one game this year.

Glynn, who took over the regular first base duties last week when Al Rosen was re-installed at third, connected three times in yesterday's first game against Detroit.

Smith Wins For Reds in Relief Stint

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, who are making one-run wins a habit, tonight go after their fifth straight victory, with Eddie Stanky's St. Louis Cardinals as opposition.

The Reds scored their third and fourth straight one-run triumphs yesterday, sweeping a doubleheader 6-5 and 8-7 from the Chicago Cubs in Crosley Field.

It was a 10-inning uphill climb in the first game and the Reds had to apply the brakes in the second after holding a 6-0 lead.

The opening game was a slugging match between Ransom Jackson, the Cubs' third baseman who sent the visitors into the lead twice, and Cincinnati's first sacker, Ted Kluszewski. Jackson socked out two homers, a double and a single in five trips to the plate, and big Ted slammed his 21st homer of the season and two singles.

Reliefer Frank Smith, who went into the game in the ninth, was credited with the win, his second in three days and his second against one loss for the season.

Major Leagues' Sluggers Give Power Demonstration

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Big league ballplayers celebrated Independence Day with a home run barrage that rocked eight baseball stadiums from dugout to bullpen and sent the harried, defenseless pitchers running to cover.

The day of double-headers resounded with 35 home run blasts, only five short of the major league record for most homers in one day. A total of 315 hits were peppered about the parks and 75 pitchers were used. That's an average of almost 20 hits and more than 4½ pitchers a game.

Cleveland's Bill Glynn was the merriest celebrant. The normally light-hitting first baseman exploded three home runs in the 13-6 opening victory over Detroit and drove in eight runs. Ray Boone and Wayne Belardi homered for Detroit. Glynn's bat, along with the rest of the Indians, was silenced in the second game, which went to Detroit 1-0 in 11 innings.

Three others—the New York Yankees' Irv Noren, Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and the Chicago Cubs' Randy Jackson—walloped two homers in one game. Dusty Rhodes of the New York Giants and Ted Lepcio of Boston also hit two homers, one in each game. Glynn, Lepcio and Roy Sievers of Washington had grand-slammers.

Only nine of the 32 starting pitchers went the distance with four of them turning in shutouts. The flashiest performance was exhibited by George Zuverink of the Tigers. A member of the Indians in 1951, Zuverink blanked his former teammates with three hits and was rewarded with the victory when Tiger shortstop Harvey Kuenn homered off rookie Don Mossi to break up the game.

The split, which snapped an eight-game winning streak for the Indians, cost them a full game to the Yankees and trimmed their first-place American League lead to 3½ games.

The Yankees trimmed the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 7-4 and 11-2, to win their first doubleheader in almost a year. They had split the last three twin bills in 1953 and their first 10 this season. Successive homers by Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle and a run-scoring double by Gene Woodling provided the margin of victory in the opener. Noren drove in five runs with his two homers in the nightcap. Bill Wilson hit Philadelphia's only homer.

The Giants and Dodgers swept double-headers leaving the National League-leading Giants still 3½ lengths in front of Brooklyn. The two rivals begin a three-game set at Ebbets Field tonight.

Johnny Antonelli won his 12th

The banquet is scheduled tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Fish & Game club house four miles north of Marion on State Route 4.

The speaker, conservation education specialist with the Ohio Wildlife Division, supervises a conservation education program within the Vocational Agriculture Division under terms of an agreement between the Ohio Division of Wildlife and the Ohio Division of Vocational Agriculture of the Department of Education.

Born on a farm, the speaker received his bachelor of science and master of science degrees from the University of West Virginia and Ohio State College of Agriculture and taught vocational agriculture for 12 years. Short was chief of game management and propagation from April, 1937, to October, 1946. He served as chief of law enforcement for the division of conservation one year and was chief of wildlife conservation extension service for six years.

Lopez Optimistic

Bullpen Strength Is Top Factor Favoring Indians

DETROIT (AP)—Alfonso Ramon Lopez, the confident senor who manages the Cleveland Indians, credits a brilliant bullpen for his team's torrid .697 pace in the American League.

The senor, he say simply:

"We're in first place because our bullpen is a lot stronger. I can give my 'Big Three' more rest. Now I can yank Lemon, Wynn and Garcia a lot quicker than in the past.

Speaking before yesterday's holiday double-header with Detroit, Lopez admitted "it's a nice feeling" to hold a lead on the New York Yankees.

"But it would be nicer if this were September instead of July," he added. "It's rough down the stretch, but I think we can make it this time."

The Indians split with Detroit, winning the first 13-6 but losing the second 1-0 in 11 innings, and their lead over the Yankees was cut to 3½ games. Still, the Cleveland bullpen had a chance to shine.

Art Houtteman, an ex-Tiger, replaced a wobbling Dave Hoskins in the fourth inning of the opener and checked his former teammates for his ninth win against only four losses.

"That's why we're winning," Lopez explained. "Houtteman, Hal Newhouser, Don Mossi and Ray Narleski have been doing a wonderful job for us in the bullpen.

"Newhouser has been excellent. All he needs is a little time to warm up. He stopped the Yanks in relief a week ago and that was the biggest game of the year for us."

Newhouser, making a comebck with the Indians, has a 4-1 record and a glittering 1.65 earned run average. He has permitted 18 hits in 27 1-3 innings, allowing only five earned runs.

Tag Team Match Tops Armory Card

Farmer Jones and Farmer Marlin will be pitted against Ivan Rasputin and Benito Gardini in the main event of Thursday night's wrestling card at the Marion Armory.

Promoter Les Fishbaugh announced the four would tangle in a tag team match. The bout will be for two out of three falls and will cover a 60-minute time limit. All four will come to the Marion ring from action in Chicago wrestling circles.

Charlie Carr and Gino Angelo will meet in the 60-minute semi-final. That bout also will be for two out of three falls.

Mike Ryan and Jack O'Reilly are scheduled to lock horns in the 30-minute opener at 8:30.

Bucyrus and Marengo Notch Diamond Wins

Bucyrus, Marengo, New Washington and West Salem posted wins Sunday in the North Central Ohio League.

The Bucyrus nine pushed over five runs in the sixth inning to move past Mansfield 8-4. The losers scored three in the final stanza but the rally was cut short. Diebler belted a triple and a home run to lead the winners' attack. Kline and Kirgis smacked doubles. Mansfield's only extra base blow was a double by Gordon. McDonald was the winning pitcher.

A 14-hit attack combined with five Nevada errors led to a 9-1 win for Marengo. Doran went all the way on the mound for Marengo while Crouse was charged with the loss.

West Salem downed Leesville 10-1 and New Washington rolled over Ashland 13-8 in the other league games.

Gene Sarazen Sets Sights on British Crown

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—Gene Sarazen, the greying links master from Germantown, N.Y., smiled today before teeing off in the second qualifying round of the British Open Golf Championship and said:

"I am going to catch that little guy."

Squire Sarazen, who won this same title back in 1932, astonished everyone yesterday by shooting a 67 over the hillside course. The "little guy" he referred to was 29-year-old John McGonigle, who led the big field with a 65.

The field of 300 golfer reversed today, with those who played the first round at Hillside moving to Birkdale and vice versa. Both Sarazen and Irishman McGonigle will have their try at the tougher Birkdale layout.

The testing Birkdale course, where the championship proper will be played, holds no fears for Sarazen.

"I think Birkdale is a fairer course than Hillside," he said. "If you are hitting the ball well, then the course will treat you real nice. And I certainly am hitting well."

Frank Stranahan of Toledo and Bobby Locke, the favorite from South Africa, each had a 69 on his first round.

game with a three-hit, 10-0 shutout over the Philadelphia Phillies in the opener. Rhodes, subbing for Monte Irvin in left field, homered and doubled in the first game. In the second game, he hit two singles and a homer with two mates aboard to give the Giants an uphill 4-3 triumph.

Rookie Walter Moryn, playing in place of the slumping Jackie Robinson, cracked four hits, including a homer, to help Brooklyn down Pittsburgh 8-6 in the first game. Duke Snider banged his 20th four-bagger in that game too. Junior Gilliam homered for the Dodgers in the second game but it was Carl Furillo who drive in five runs to account for the 7-2 victory.

Milwaukee won two slugging matches from the St. Louis Cardinals 8-6 and 10-4 as each team slugged four hoimers. Besides Mathews' pair, Bill Bruton and Del Crandall homered for the Braves while the Cardinal homers were hit by Solly Hemus, Rip Repulski, Ray Jablonski and rookie Joe Cunningham.

Boston's Red Sox and Washington divided a twin bill Boston won the first game 14-0 behind Willard Nixon's six-hitter as Lepcio batted in five runs with a triple and single besides his grand-slammer. Jack Jensen also homered for Boston.

Washington took the second 7-1 behind Chuck Stobb's five-hitter. Sievers' four-run wallop offset a 1-0 Red Sox lead provided by Lepcio's second homer.

Only one homer was hit in the Chicago-Baltimore double-header, won by the White Sox 3-0 and 2-1. Billy Pierce hurled a four-hit shutout in his first complete game since May 19. The only homer was hit by Ron Jackson, a 20-year-old bonus player subbing at first base for Chicago in place of the injured Ferris Fain and Phil Cavarretta. Jackson's blow came in the seventh inning and broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Baltimore's Duane Pillette and Harry Dorish. Cass Michaels' single in the eighth scored Minnie Minoso all the way from first to provide the winning run.

Dan Bankhead, who made the 1947 World Series with the Dodgers as a pinch runner and scored after falling down in the baseline, batted .335 with Guadalain the Pacific Coast League of Mexico last winter.

Fulton Lewis Plays Prosecutor

One of the pleasanter reveries of children of all ages is to imagine oneself as prosecutor, raking a squirming witness with scathing wit and overwhelming authority. Half the country, I bet, indulged in this relatively innocent pastime during the hearings, tearing apart the defense of Sen. McCarthy or Secretary Stevens (depending on how you looked at it.)

J. CROSBY

Now Fulton Lewis Jr. is playing this little game, and not so innocently either, on the air. Lewis got hold of the Atomic Energy Commission's 500,000-word transcript of the Oppenheimer hearings and has been playing prosecutor while an associate, Robert Hurleigh, plays witness, both taking their text directly from the transcript.

-:-

THIS MAKES FOR lively listening but it borders on the unethical. For one thing, Lewis' explanation of this strange procedure is very brief and, unless you're a better listener than most, not at all clear. "Once again tonight, we'll use Bob Hurleigh as the witness—this time Mr. McCloy. I will take the part of Mr. Roger Robb." Well, that seems fairly explicit in print but it's not at all explicit on the radio. People don't listen to every word that's spoken on the air, especially to Mr. Lewis who has a habit of hashing and rehashing the same old stuff day after day.

The Mr. McCloy he was talking about was John J. McCloy, president of the Chase National Bank, former high commissioner for Germany and a pretty reputable citizen. Presently the listeners heard the following exchange:

"How long have you been president of the Chase National Bank?"

"A little over a year."

"As far as you know, Mr. McCloy, do you have any employe of your bank who has been for any considerable period of time on terms of rather intimate and friendly association with thieves and safecrackers?"

"No. I don't know of anyone."

-:-

"I'D LIKE TO ASK you a few hypothetical questions, if I might, sir. Suppose you had a branch bank manager and a friend of his came to him one day and said: 'I have some friends and contacts who are thinking about coming to your bank to rob it. I'd like to talk to you about maybe leaving the vault open some night so they could do it.'—and your branch manager rejected the suggestion. Would you expect the branch manager to report the incident?"

"Yes."

I don't guess there are any limits to how hypothetical a lawyer can go in cross-examination but that must be about as hypothetical as you can get. But that's not the point. It must have been a trying period for Mr. McCloy on the stand, even in secret session. And here it was on the air—Mr. Lewis deliberately selecting the most damaging portion of his testimony—and Mr. McCloy's role was being played by someone else without his consent or knowledge.

Many people—some of whom wrote me—got the idea that this was Mr. McCloy on the air and that Fulton Lewis was making a fool of him. This is hardly fair, which is not surprising since Mr. Lewis is not exactly noted for his fairness. But I think the impersonation of responsible, living citizens by actors (or associates) without their approval is an unwarranted intrusion on their privacy and faintly illegal. I can think of no precedent for it and I hope this doesn't set one.

SPEAKING OF PROMINENT citizens, I have another complaint. A good many of the cast of characters connected with the McCarthy hearings apparently didn't get enough television during that lengthy circus and are running around appearing on the commercial shows.

Apparently, there's no limit to what they'll do either. Sen. Mundt was the mystery guest on "What's My Line?" Sen. Jackson, all dressed up and bewigged as George Washington, was mystery guest on "Masquerade Party." Ray Jenkins popped up on "The Breakfast Club." Any minute now I expect to hear that Roy Cohn got married on "Bride and Groom."

Drug Called Harmful

Indians Seek Showdown On Use of Peyote Beans

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. — (UP) —A tiny, button - shaped cactus bean that serves as the narcotic keystone of a strange religion promises to touch off a bitter fight at the next session of the Navajo tribal council.

The powerful council scheduled action on the peyote bean at its next meeting after University of Michigan scientists reported use of the odd ritual drug is spreading rapidly through the 75,000 tribe members. They estimated one of every six Navajos used the drug.

SINCE THE BEAN is the key ingredient in ceremonies of the Native American Church, the issue will be religious freedom. Members of the so-called "peyote church" and their council representatives plan a showdown fight against any attempt to enforce prohibition against its use.

Other councilmen charge that peyote is a narcotic used in immoral orgies, and that it can cause insanity, sickness and death. They feel a generally ignored 1940 tribal law banning its sale or use should be enforced strictly.

Dr. Maurice Seevers, pharmacologist who has studied the drug here for years, said peyote is believed to be the only narcotic in the world used purely for religious purposes. It is also virtually unique in that it is not habit-forming.

"When it is eaten, one of the chief effects is to produce wakefulness," Seevers said. "The user generally feels neither hunger nor thirst, and any aches and pains he may have had before using it are temporarily relieved."

SEEVERS SAID the prime goal of peyote eaters is "colored vision," but that only a few attain the effect. He commented that the bean made him "very ill" and that its taste is bitter and nauseous.

Dr. David Aberly, University of Michigan sociologist who has worked on the project with Seevers, said that "peyote worshipers" believe they can communicate with God only when under the strange influence of the cactus button narcotic.

He said peyote users eat the bean only in religious ceremonies for such express purposes as curing the sick, marking special occasions or to send young men off to military service.

Aberly said Aztec Indians were using the bean in their religion when the Spanish invaded Mexico and that some 40 American tribes were using it by 1925. He estimated that some 11,000 to 12,000 Navajos used the drug in 1951 and that the number has now jumped to about 14,000.

Seevers said large does of peyote were given monkeys and dogs for a year in laboratory tests and that the animals suffered no "withdrawal sickness" — indicating they had not become addicted.

HE ALSO said peyote was given to patients at the federal narcotic hospital at Lexington, Ky.

"Such patients generally seek any kind of drug which will have the desired effect," Seevers said. "After one try, however, the patients refused to take it again—peyote makes them sick, wakeful and excited, with none of the sought-after effects."

The Native American Church was founded among the Kiowa-Comanche tribesmen in 1918, adopting the peyote bean already in use.

Aberly said it was imported to the Navajo reservation from Oklahoma in 1933. Within two years it had spread through the Window Rock, Red rock, Lukachuka and Tohatchi areas, with Oklahoma Indians coming to the reservation to help with ceremonies.

The bean is native to the Big Bend country of Texas and to north central Mexico. Navajos obtain their supplies from Oklahoma Indians or from Mexico through the Ute tribe.

Both Texas and Arizona have prohibited use or barter of the narcotic but haven't enforced the ban. Last winter, however Navajo police arrested 15 tribesmen on peyote charges. They were sentenced to up to nine months in jail.

Labor Official Opposes Withdrawing From ILO

CLEVELAND (AP) — A labor department official says it would be "repugnant to the ideals and principles for which we stand" for America to quit the International Labor Organization because Russians were admitted to membership.

Albert L. McDermott, special assistant to the U.S. Secretary of Labor, said American government, industry and labor are using the ILO "to spread the truth about the United States x x x to show all nations the prosperity and spiritual wealth that results from mutual respect among governments, employers and workers."

McDermott spoke at the concluding session of the ninth annual convention of the Assn. of Catholic Trade Unionists.

USIS Ordered To Plug Red Imperialism Theme

WASHINGTON (AP)—Director Theodore C. Streibert of the U.S. Information Agency has told his men to hit hard on this theme: "Red imperialism" is the only imperialism on the march in the world today.

In a message to USIA' 217 operations posts in 76 countries, Streibert said yesterday the Communists—who constantly raise the cry of "imperialism" against the United States and others—have in fact "led country after country into the iron tentacles of Red colonialism."

"It is up to the U.S. Information Agency," he said, "to help make sure that people everywhere know with whom and with what they are dealing, before the conspirators succeed in their evil designs for seizing power."

OHIOAN WINS HOMESTEAD

RUPERT, Idaho — Charles Herring of Lucasville, Ohio, yesterday was one of 60 veterans who won homestead sites here by a name drawing. More than 5,000 veterans had applied for the homesteads—60 irrigated, 160-acre farms each valued at $10,000.

Government Outlaws Reds in East Pakistan

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) —East Pakistan's new military government has outlawed the Communist party as a danger to public peace. The Reds, who supported the regime of ousted Chief Minister Abdul Kasem Fazlul Huq, were accused of inciting riots in April in which more than 500 persons were killed.

Maj. Gen. Iskander Mirza, the state's new governor, signed an order declaring the party and all its branches illegal in East Pakistan.

Following the April riots and statements by Fazlul Huq demanding provincial autonomy for east Pakistan, Governor General Ghulam Mohammed fired the chief minister and his government.

Switch in Roles Leads Cabbie, Fare to Trouble

A Mount Vernon taxicab driver who had "one too many" and a pasenger who took over the driving of the cab for him were arrested by Marion police early today.

Carol Irene Pritchard, 18, of near Mount Vernon was charged with driving without a driver's license and reckless driving and Lauren L. Mire, 33, was charged with intoxication and permitting an unlicensed driver to drive. They were arrested at Main and Center St. at 1:03 a.m. today as they were returning to Mount Vernon from a visit here.

Both were scheduled to appear in Municipal Court today.

Mars Lake Gone, Jap Astronomers Puzzled

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese astronomers were puzzled today over the disappearance of a "lake" on the planet Mars, now making one of its rare close approaches to the earth.

Tuneo Saeki, a leading Japanese authority on Mars, said observations made from the Osaka Electrical Science Hall failed to disclose the landmark.

It was clearly visible in 1939 under similar conditions, Saeki said.

'Shares' in Health Placed on Sale by Local Department

Shares in Ohio's public health were placed on sale in Marion today by Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, city health officer, and his staff in the city health department.

Under the auspices of the Ohio Public Health Association, the sale of certificates for shares in public health is a new wrinkle in methods of raising funds for the association.

The purchaser of each share is "guaranteed" daily dividends in the form of better health education, more complete health service, better nutrition programs at city schools, more adequate inspection and licensing of food industry operations, expansion of the visiting nursing services, sanitation improvement, and more research in preventive medicine, the association declares.

Members of the organization who are conducting the sale of shares throughout the state are public health nurses, sanitarians, veterinarians, laboratory workers, administrative leaders, nutritionists, office workers and educators.

Each share will cost $5 and an unlimited number of shares may be purchased on each certificate, Dr. Weinbaum said. The local health department has a total of 25 certificates to dispose of.

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Tulsa World didn't get a picture of a Fourth of July traffic jam yesterday—it got a picture of a plane crash instead.

The World said it sent commercial photographer Howard Hopkins aloft to get a picture of a traffic jam. The plane ran out of gas and it crash-landed at the intersection of U.S. 66 and State Highway 33.

Hopkins and the pilot both walked away from the crash unhurt. The big traffic jam the photographer had been looking for all day formed round the crashed plane.

But Hopkins found, to his horror, he had used his last film taking pictures of the crash.

Physician Says People of U.S. Eat Too Much

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Dr. Norman Schneeberg of the Einstein Medical Center says there's no "secret" why there are 40,000,000 "fat" persons in the United States. They eat too much, and that's all there is to it.

Schneeberg used a blackboard to show an area of the brain known as the hypothalamus which he called the "automic appetite regulator." He pointed out the way to tri mthe bulges is to get the regulator regulated.

The chief of the center's endocrinology division told of the most common complaint by fat persons who come to him for treatment.

"Some people eat as much as they want and don't gain a pound," he quoted them as saying. "What's the secret?"

"There's no secret," Schneeberg said. "There's a big difference between the amount of food people wnat to eat, and fat persons have a short memory for the amount of food they consume."

"Some people eat like lumberjacks, but don't go out and chop wood," he explained.

Dr. Schneeberg said no injection or pill will make a person lose weight, and you can't "wish it off, wash it off, massage it off or rub it off.

"The answer is dieting under medical supervision for long enough time to break down the old eating habits," he said.

"Although excessive weight has been attributed to a variety of "about 99 ptr cent of fat people just eat too much."

Farmers Given Pointers For Pea Improvement

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP) — For bigger and better peas for canning and freezing, a farmer should select a fertile and well-drained soil and plant early in April to take advantage of cool, moist weather.

That's the advice of a Cornell University vegetable crops specialist, Charles B. Sayre, who has carried on experiments for several years. He says each week of delay in planting will result in a drop of about 200 pounds of shelled peas to the acre.

Sayre urged good fertilization drilled in after plowing the soil and before planting. He added that pea seed is expensive and chemical seed treatments often aid in economizing by increasing field stands by as much as 50 per cent.

Reporter Tells What It's Like To Fly Jet Airplane

(Editor's Note: What's it like to fly at near sonic speed in a jet plane? Hundreds of military fliers know, but few civilians do. Here's how Murray M. Moler of United Press, former U.P. war correspondent, found out.)

By MURRAY M. MOLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

SALT LAKE CITY (UP)—There I was, flat on my back, at 29,000 feet.

Over the intercom came the colonel's voice:

"Now straighten it up."

My answer: "Which way's up?"

—:—

THERE ARE no landmarks five miles up in the sky over Utah, believe me. And the Utah Air National Guard T-33 trainer was doing 400-plus miles an hour.

Col. Alma G. Winn, commander of the Utah ANG and my host for an hour-long ride to illustrate the thrills and chills of jet flying, had put the plane into a roll.

From the rear position in the twin-seat aircraft, the view forward was blocked by Winn's seat. Tight straps kept me from glancing backwards. But sideways — well, the world was spinning.

When the T-33 started to roll, we were over the south end of Great Salt Lake.

When Winn told me to straighten the ship, I didn't know where we were.

Finally, over one shoulder I got a glimpse of the yawning depths of the Bingham copper pit.

By all that's right, that should be under us.

So, by slowly turning the control stick, I was able to get the plane back on a level and right side up — course.

—:—

WINN TRIED to get me to roll the plane myself. Twice, I eased the ship on its side. But, responding to strong protests from my churning innards, I couldn't get brave enough to roll it the rest of the way.

I've flown military planes before—over Alaska and the Aleutians, over Japan and China and out over the Pacific. But there was never anything like this before.

If I mentioned to the colonel once over the inter-phone, "Gee, this is smooth," I must have said it a dozen times.

But that's what jet flying is — smooth. And, to my surprise, quiet — the roaring wild washing machine noise of the jet engine is left behind in the stratosphere.

The thrills are many—climbing or descending at a rate of thousands of feet a minute, the sensitivity of the controls, the feeling of power, the realization that the cities and mountains are slipping below at a rate of more than eight miles a minute.

The chills? The biggest throat-lump came when T-Sgt. Lester E. Buckley of Kearns, Utah, crew chief on the Utah National Guard's plane No. 52-9729, strapped me into the seat.

INTO THE SEAT frame went a cumbersome parachute. Onto the seat climbed your lanky reporter. Onto his head went an ear-smashing crash helmet.

Oxygen supply hoses and the radio wires were fastened to the nose-denting face piece. Straps—over the shoulders and legs and across the middle — were secured tightly.

"If you have to get out," explained Buckly, "pull this yellow lever on the left side of the seat, and then pull the one on the right side. When Colonel Winn has released the canopy, squeeze this righthand trigger and the seat, with you on it, will eject. Then release your chute."

I inquired what would happen if the colonel didn't get the canopy released?

"Pull this third lever," Buckley replied. "If it sticks, squeeze the trigger anyway and you'll go right through the plastic canopy. It won't hurt."

I was glad to get his word for it —and even happier that none of the levers had to be pushed or pulled.

The only other complaint came from my stomach. But it got back to normal after a week or so.

Large Crowds Attend Galion Holiday Program

GALION — Crowds beyond all expectations thronged Galion's Heise Park Monday to participate in a 12-hour program of activities sponsored by the Lions Club.

Climaxed by a gigantic display of fireworks at 10 p.m., the day's program began at 11 a.m., with the serving of an ox roast. This was served all day long by the Galion Boosters' Club.

An afternoon of sports, featuring three baseball games, tennis, horseshoe, and life-saving demonstration by the Red Cross, was well attended.

Thousands of spectators gathered at the park in the evening to be entertained by two wrestling shows and the display of fireworks. A late display of fireworks was presented after 11 p.m. to conclude the day.

4-Power Military Talks On Southeast Asia Open

SINGAPORE (AP)—Military representatives of the United States, Britain, France and Australia opened a four-day conference here today. Their chief task was a thorough new assessment of the Allied defense position in Southeast Asia in the light of recent French withdrawals in Indochina.

An American spokesman described the talks as "purely routine," terming them a continuation of those held periodically over the last two years in Saigon and Singapore.

Man Shot for Making Cracks About Texas Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Philip E. Ahlm, 49, movie stunt man shot a week ago during a Hollywood party after making derogatory remarks about Texas, died last night in general hospital.

The shooting took place during a party at the home of oil heiress Barbara Clampitt. Charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder was Ed Neely, 61, of Texas. He is the husband of the former Leah Clampitt, sister of the hostess.

After his arrest, he told officers the shooting occurred after Ahlm "kidded" him about his Texas accent and made derogatory remarks about that state and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Neely is free on $10,000 bail.

FUNERAL SERVICES SET

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—David D. Williams, father of the board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., Benjamin F. Fairless, will be buried tomorrow. He died Sunday at 89.

ON TOP DOWN UNDER. Two hitchhiking seagulls, wearied from flying or chilled by the prevalent winter winds, roost on backs of seemingly unmindful pelicans fishing in the water of Port Phillip Bay, near Melbourne, Australia.

NOT QUITE

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UP) — Students at the Stephen Foster school here knew the answer was a United States president when their teacher, Elizabeth Travis, treating them to a special baseball "lesson," asked: "Who threw out the first ball to start the game?" Back came the answer: "George Washington."

Weather Outlook: Fair and Pleasant

Temperatures were above seasonal levels in the mid-continent with readings around 100 degrees.

One of the nation's hottest spots yesterday was Miles City, Mont., with 108, while it was 104 in Memphis. It was generally cooler over the southern Great Lakes region, the northern New England states and west of the Continental Divide from northwestern Colorado to northern Idaho.

Sheriff Raids Cockfight, 50 To 60 Escape

Marion and Delaware Birds, Fans Reported At Pickaway Hideout

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A sheriff's raid broke up a Fourth of July weekend cockfighting series and sent some 50 to 60 fans scurrying for the woods.

The Sunday raid on an open-air cockfighting pit on a farm five miles southeast of Circleville was reported today by Sheriff Charles E. Radcliff

Because the spectators were alerted when the sheriff's car entered the three-quarter-mile lane leading to the farm, they were able to scatter and avoid arrest, the sheriff said

Only one arrest was made Leonard Boysel, 27, the farm tenant, was charged with promoting a cockfight He was fined $75 and costs by Justice of the Peace Water Heise and sentenced to 10 days in county jail But because Mrs. Boysel is expecting a baby soon, the jail sentence was suspended.

The sheriff said many of the fighting cocks and fans were from Delaware, Marion, Columbus and other Central Ohio towns

Between the farmhouse and barn was found a pit about 16 feet in diameter with wooden sides 25 inches high the sheriff said He also found 37 boxes of roosters, three and four in a box, stacks of sandwiches, cold beer and pop

Warm blood and feathers in the pit indicated one cockfight already had been held, he added.

Since he could charge no one but Boysel because he had found no fight in progress, Sheriff Radcliff called in several deputies flushed the erstwhile spectators out of the woods, took their names and auto license numbers, warned them to stay out of Pickaway County, then returned their birds and cars

Coroner E. A. Hegele of Cumberland County identified the victims as Walter C Keagle Jr., 20, of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. Blanche Arel, 23, of Akron, Ohio

Hegele said that Victor Dagwan, a soldier, stationed at the Youngstown, Ohio, Air Force Base, and driver of the automobile, was taken to the Carlisle Barracks Army Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Thomas Mayhew Arel, 23, husband of one of the victims, also was injured in the crash. He was taken to Carlisle Hospital where it was said his condition was not serious.

COLOR CHARACTER

MURORAN, Japan — (UP) — A school teacher who spent three years recording the relations of colors to the personalities of 1000 children says youngsters favoring green and blue often have split personalities and are apt to "indulge" in a false show of power. Among girls, she says, violet, white and green are popular with the sick and lonesome.

Group Formed To Assist New City Teachers

The Marion Education Association has formed a professional activities committee to help teachers, city schools director of instruction Harold Edwards said today.

Composed of 10 teachers and administrators in the city school system, the committee is working on two projects at present: helping new teachers find housing and setting up a "buddy system" between new and experienced teachers.

The committee requests anyone with available housing facilities to call Mrs. Florence LaBeau at 2-6051, or Miss Mary Kay Miley at the school administration office, 3-1116.

In the "buddy system," a new teacher will be assigned to an experienced one in the same school. The pair will work together to get the new teacher oriented properly, Edwards said.

Members of the committee are: Mrs LaBeau, chairman; Mrs. Marion Nesper, Mrs. Dorothy Klehm, Miss Elizabeth Withrow, Mrs. Mary Orcutt, Ray Hoops, Mrs. Betty Leffler, Mrs. Dorothy Galladay, Norman Fogt, and James Hill, president of the MEA.

U.S. Mediator Sought In Ohio Edison Strike

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Leo A Berg said he would seek aid of the Federal Conciliation Service in an effort to settle a five-day strike of 2,200 Ohio Edison Co. workers

The mayor made the announcement following a fruitless all-night session between negotiators for the company and the CIO Utility Workers Union.

The workers are seeking a 16-cent hourly pay increase. Present average rates were unavailable.

Ohio Edison serves some 1,400,000 persons in northeastern Ohio.

Have Vital Role

Building Big Bombers Job for Women

WICHITA, Kas. (AP) — Big B47 jet bombers roaring into the air from U. S. bases over the free world have been given the benefit of the feminne touch.

Among the 28,032 workers at the Wichita plant of the Boeing Airplane Co., still prime supplier of the swept-wing medium bombers, are 6,422 women. Of these, 2,322 are in manufacturing jobs, intimately concerned with the bombers that are the Strategic Air Command's mainstay.

CURRENTLY, says Mel Vobach, Boeing employment manager, the trend is to hire fewer women except for clerical or stenographic work.

But that's because in most instances the labor demand can be met by hiring men. Other things being equal, men still have preference because they represent families to feed, clothe and house.

Dwight Kelly, superintendent of major and primary assembly says

"Women today are carrying a major load in sub - assembly sections, and in all shops where wiring installatiosn constitute a major portion of the work.

"In fact, women can do any job which does not require heavy lifting of tools or equipment. But they are especially adept at performing tasks in which finger dexterity plays a major role.

"For the most part women are cooperative, willing to learn, easily taught and conscientious."

—:—

KELLY MUST have been thinking about Mrs. Donna Collier of Andover, outlying suburb of Wichita. She and her husband C J., live in a trim, new white frame house surrounded by a carefully-groomed yard.

The Collier's pretty 17-year-old daughter, Ardis will graduate from Andover high school next year. Both their sons are in service.

Mrs. Collier, at 41, is a top pay grade metal mechanic at Boeing — skilled at reaming, countersinking, riveting heavy skin metal, all close - tolerance work; rework-rejected pieces so they'll not be lost; and working on special projects.

Collier, 49, is an Inspector at nearby Beech Aircraft Co., giving commercial and military craft pre-flight checks. He's been at Beech four years now — almost as long as his wife, Donna, has been at Boeing They began their plane plant work in California during World War II

Mrs. Collier hasn't missed a worker's day's work since February, 1953, when she took off to visit son Ray, then in trainng at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. Currently she's attending a company blue - print school on her own time.

When the youngsters were small, she and her husband worked different shifts in order to care for the children and share housekeepng duties. "Now Ardis is our homemaker — and a good one," she reports.

Both work day shifts now, so they have a chance to relax together evenings and enjoy their home.

TAME STINGER

SYDNEY — (UP) — A 10-foot sting-ray, the largest in captivity, has become so tame in a Taronga Zoo pool that it will eat from the hand of its keeper. The 500-pound monster spends most of the day sleeping in a secluded corner of the pool, but glides to the surface of the water when a salmon or mullet is held out.

Utah's Little-Known Ore Mining Industry Is Now 102 Years Old

CEDAR CITY, Utah (UP) — Utah's iron mining industry — 102 years old but comparatively little known — last year produced enough iron ore to fill a train longer than the distance from New York City to Chicago.

Two major concerns, supplying raw materials to blast furnaces throughout the country but particularly in the West, shipped about 5,500,000 tons of iron ore during 1953 from pits in the sage-covered mountain knolls west of Cedar City.

Some 3,500,000 tons of the Utah iron ore went to the Geneva, Utah, works of the U. S. Steel Corp, 22 miles north of the mines that are owned and worked by the Columbia Iron Mining Co., a subsidary.

The rest was mined principally by the Utah Construction Co. under contract or for open sale to supplement closer supplies of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. furnaces at Pueblo, Colo., the Kaiser Steel Co. plant at Fontana, Calif., and for export. Small amounts, used as special "flux," were shipped to such concerns as the Maryland blast furnaces of the Bethlehem Steel Co.

A tour of the Utah mines with colorful, 39-year-old G. D. MacDonald, general superintendent of iron mines for the Columbia firm, showed that the more than 500 men working in the Beehive State's iron pits had their problems — and their rewards.

Their problems center around uncovering the magnetite and hemotite ores from the desert mountains. Some of the deposits had been exposed by nature. In others, the over-burden — 12,000,000 yards of it at a new Desert Mound mine — has to be stripped off.

The mining operations, as well as the stripping, are carried out by big electric and diesel shovels, which load the dirt and rock into hugh trucks. The over-burden is dumped outside the "pay" area. The iron ore itself is crushed at pit-side plants and dumped into ore trains.

The actual iron ore is particularly heavy — weighing three tons per yard, compared with two tons for non-iron rock. The shovels pick up eight to 10 tons at a bite. Trucks — the Utah mines were the first in the country to use these instead of trains in the open pits — carry 30 to 50 tons each.

The Mormon Church leader, Brigham Young, heard about reported deposits of iron ore in Southwestern Utah soon after he and his followers arrived in Salt Lake Valley in 1847. Within five years, a group of pioneers had been sent to the Cedar City area by Young and had produced the first pig iron made west of the Missouri River. Indian and cloudburst trouble virtually eliminated the pioneer attempt in 1853, however. Another try was made, and on one day in 1855, the primitive furnace produced 1,700 pounds of "good pig iron" which was cast as stoves and other utensils.

Financial and supply troubles made the early efforts difficult and the original furnace was closed in 1858. Fifteen years later, the Mormons tried again with a blast furnace rated at 2,400 pounds of iron a day. The venture lasted 10 years, then folded.

World War II was the biggest shot in the arm for the Utah iron industry. With heavy industry vital in the west, the government financed construction of a quarter-billion dollar plant near Provo to use the raw materials so close at hand.

State of Normalcy

Economists are using the word "mixed" to describe the signs and portents of the times. At the beginning of the second half of the calendar year, they find themselves looking at a combination of both favorable and unfavorable statistics.

They see no signs of a boom. But on the other hand, they see no signs of a collapse. Things are not as lively as they were when the Korean war boom was stimulating output and purchasing power. But things are not nearly so apathetic as the prophets of gloom were trying to make them appear early this year.

The best of the educated guesses coincide closely with that of the White House economic adviser, Dr. Arthur F. Burns, who declared in an interview a few weeks ago that he could see nothing to stop America from moving steadily forward in the direction of his own optimism about its future.

Aside from economics, which are in themselves as much an effect as a cause, there is another place where gloomy predictions failed to materialize.

The systematic attack launched against popular confidence last winter by certain factions which had everything to gain and nothing to lose if confidence faltered was a failure.

Confidence did not falter. In the places where it was and still is being challenged sharply — the areas whose production is geared directly to the automobile business — it has taken its hardest blows. But even in these places there has been no serious damage to morale. The slump is regarded as temporary and subject to improvement during the second half of the year.

It has become evident to a great many people at about the same time and for about the same reasons that something approaching old-fashioned normalcy has been restored to American living — a state in which things are neither as good or as bad as they might but are about as good as they can reasonably be expected to be.

History Cannot Be Rushed

More persuasive than anything he could have said during his visit in Washington was Prime Minister Churchill's prestige in statesmanship.

He has lived long enough to bear his diplomatic disappointments with as much dignity as he bears his accomplishments. He does not have to apologize for his record.

In that respect, he is like his American friend, Bernard Baruch, who is famous for giving his contemporaries some of the best advice they never heeded. Churchill has warned the world of more trouble in advance than his contemporaries ever were willing to avert by taking his warnings seriously.

His accumulating wisdom has revealed to him what still is veiled from the eyes of his American counterparts—that history cannot be rushed. There are no sudden developments in international relations. There are only sudden realizations of events that have been a long time in the making.

Americans are proverbially impatient. They are prone to demand overnight solutions to age-old problems and to remake the world in their own image with an appropriation of a few billion dollars. They are impatient about opposition and intolerant of misunderstanding.

They are reluctant to concede that a man who has lived as long as Churchill and has forgotten more about international relations than most men ever will learn may have good advice to offer. But when they consider his prestige, they cannot forget that he earned it by being right more often than he was wrong.

In Defense of Taxpayers

That furious but futile grab by both parties for taxpayers' favor in the U.S. Senate this week pointed up a question that is supposed to be too hot for politicians to answer.

Both tried to reduce income taxes; neither succeeded.

It is ever good politics to be tough about taxes

According to the accepted rule, politicians win favor by promising to reduce taxes and get retired to private life by reminding their constituents of the harsh realities of making income equal outgo.

This accounts for the oddity of tax-reduction talk when outgo is still running ahead of income. It accounts for the oddity of congressmen who can vote with a clear conscience for higher expenditures and lower taxes when the government already is running a deficit.

There lately has been a growing belief in many parts of the country that farmers, for example, are no longer suckers for the traditional political malarkey of promising them the moon in return for their vote. The idea behind this is that farmers, being responsible citizens of the republic, cannot be bought and sold by farm-bloc politicos that easily.

It is doubtful if the tax-bloc politicos can buy favor that easily, either. Taxpayers as a rule want to be sure they are helping their government make ends meet. They have a sense of responsibility for its welfare that cannot safely be disregarded by their representatives and senators in Congress.

Bitter Fight in AEC

By James Free

Presidential Action Sets Off Congressional Brawl

WASHINGTON — The Atomic Energy Commission has been pushed into a scorching political fight that could last for years.

Ironically, the shove came from a man who dislikes political rough and tumble so much he often has gone out of his way to avoid it. Yet President Eisenhower's action threatens to bring on a congressional brawl over legislation that would set up a program for commercial developments of atomic energy.

The President has made at least three of the five AEC commissioners very unhappy when he ordered the atomic agency to negotiate a contract with a private power syndicate for the purchase of 600,000 kilowatts to replace an equal amount of power now produced by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Under the contract, Middle South Utilities Co. and the Southern Co. would construct a $107,000,000 plant to replace power now being supplied by TVA to an atomic plant at Paducah, Ky.

THUS, UNDER THE Eisenhower plan, TVA could meet growing AEC power needs without the need of building new power - generating facilities.

While this is in keeping with the Eisenhower policy of encouraging private power development and when possible substituting it for proposed public power projects, there are several factors about the President's order that make it more than a fight over TVA or even between public and private power. First, it puts AEC, which has been largely a nonpartisan and nonpolitical agency, on a hot political spot.

This might prove to be a serious handicap to calm handling by congress of legislation soon to be presented as a legal blueprint for future development of atomic power for commercial use.

Second, the contract itself has provisions alarming to legislators who in the past have not been unfriendly to private power companies. Perhaps the most important of these, from the viewpoint of the AEC, is Rep. Durham, ranking Democrat on the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

Durman charges that the proposed contract is "socialism" for private enterprise. He notes that the private syndicate would have to put up only 5 per cent of the construction cost, that the remaining 95 per cent would be raised through bond issues. He observed that the federal government would guarantee to buy all the power produced for a 25-year period, thus eliminating any element of business risk.

"If this is the President's new policy," said Durham, "the government is going to be in a position of guaranteeing a profit to every power company in the nation. I'm for private enterprise, but I'm not for government guarantees of this kind of financial return at no risk to private investors."

Durham voiced concern also that might foreshadow future efforts to direct the location of atomic reactors. "I think the AEC is going to be in the field of building reactors," he said. "Now, is the person in the White House, whoever he is, going to be able to say: 'You build this reactor here, or you put it there?' "

-:-

WHEN REP. PHILLIPS defended the presidential order on the ground that it is intended to put an end to the TVA's "drain of public funds," Durham replied:

"If that is true, then under this Eisenhower order, we will have two monstrosities with both at the taxpayers' expense."

Members of Congress who oppose the suggested AEC contract admit there isn't much they can do right now to block it. Both AEC and TVA appropriation bills for the next fiscal year have already cleared the Congress.

Several senators, including William Langer, are predicting that if the contract is carried out, it will block any chance of congressional approval of any additional legislation on AEC policy this year. They also think it will inject partisan politics into AEC bills, including appropriations, in the future.

This Memphis power contract could cause strong political shocks in many distant parts of the country.

T. Manville's Viewpoint

By TRUMAN TWILL

The only tomcat that writes like a man, T. Manville of the Twillery, has some things to say today about the kitten market:

-:-

The greatest tribute to felinity in modern times is the healthy condition of the kitten market. There are not as many kittens being destroyed as formerly.

This is because cats are coming into their own as useful members of society, thereby crowding out dogs, which contribute nothing, and indigent relatives, who eat their weight each week.

Cats provide companionship, mouse insurance and serenity. They also are the only domestic animals which can be depended on to perpetuate the species without intervention and without going to seed. If dogs were left to their own devices in this matter, and their devices are notoriously unreliable, the result would be huge packs of wild dogs roaming the countryside and killing everything in their path.

Inbreeding and cross - breeding would be carried to extremes. But with cats the whole thing can be left safely to the discretion of these intelligent, lovable animals themselves, of which I am glad to be one, although wishing I could be more. We are highly selective, besides being highly successful.

This imposes a necessity of distribution which cats are unable to handle. This makes it necessary for friends of cats everywhere to keep in touch at all time with places where kittens are going to be needed and to make sure that kittens are provided for same without delay.

It is like reciprocal trade, only faster. For instance, I have lined up three places where Twillery kittens are going to be needed in the near future but in the process of so doing I have been lined up four times by other kitten distributors. This is a net gain of only one kitten, however, and I may be able to minimize this by specifying that the net gain must be a tomcat.

I also have been working on the disposal of kittens yet unborn, in what might be spoken of as a state of probability. That is to say, I think the Twillery probably will have two more litters of kittens to distribute where they will be appreciated before the leaves fall. I am trying to speak ahead for places for these probably kittens without reciprocity. With kittens being born at the rate now prevailing, it soon will be a full - time job for fully accredited member of the household just to distribute kittens.

My recommendation in this matter is for concentration on tomcats in the future, boosting the growing cat census to nearby dairy farms which never have too many cats and always have an extra pan of milk to keep them interested.

I am doing my patriotic duty to the best of my ability but am fully aware of the limitations imposed on the management of the Twillery by the necessity of buying milk at retail for wholesale consumption by an ever-growing population of cats.

I am sure the management will see the merit of my suggestion and feel free to give me the gilt-edge bond for the best suggestion of the year.

Billion-Dollar Cut in Farm Surplus

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — This country's mountainous farm surplus, ranging from wheat to cotton, is bulging in bins and warehouses. The government has had to take it over from farmers. The stock on hand May 31 was worth $6,109,285,000.

Congress last week passed a bill to let the government get rid of a billion dollars of it: 700 millions through sale to foreign countries; and 300 millions as a give-away to countries in need. For instance, where there's famine.

That will leave Uncle Sam with five billion dollars worth of the stuff still on his hands. Some of it, like cotton, can keep for years. It would come in handy in an emergency, like war. What can't keep will have to be disposed of somehow.

The government can't sell it on the open market in this country. That would ruin farm prices. The very reason for buying it from farmers and storing it is to keep prices up and save farmers from the ruin of their over production.

IF THIS SEEMS like a crazy program, it's at least long-established, and repeatedly has been approved by Congress. It's based on the theory that, when necessary, the government should step in to avert a farm depression which might soon hit the rest of the country.

This is an example of how the new sell-and-giveaway law, to get rid of some of the surplus, would work:

Some foreign country, say France, wants wheat but doesn't have enough dollars to pay for it. This country will sell France the wheat it needs — not at the high American price but at a lower foreign price — and accept French money in payment. With this French money the United States buys goods from France, perhaps raw materials, or pays the cost of an American air base in France.

Or, some other country has a famine, needs wheat, but can't pay for it. In that case the government can give away up to 300 million dollars worth of its surplus wheat.

THIS WILL GIVE an idea of the enormous surplus the government now has on its hands:

Wheat — 889 million bushels; corn—810 million bushels; cotton — 7,785,000 bales; tobacco — 619 million pounds; rice — 1 million bags; peanuts — 255 million pounds; butter — 364 million pounds; cheese — 361 million pounds; dried milk — 656 million pounds. That's not all.

The government acquired this vast surplus from the farmers because of price support laws.

These laws say a farmer should get a certain percentage — sometimes a high percentage, sometimes a low one — of parity. Parity is a price Congress has fixed as that which a farmer should get to stay on a par with nonfarmers in his ability to buy things he needs.

The parity price on wheat is now $2.48, but to simplify the illustration $1 will be used.

The government says the farmer should get $1 a bushel for his wheat. So it guarantees him he will get at least 90 per cent of parity—in this case 90 cents a bushel—if the government itself has to buy it and never use it.

BUT SO MUCH wheat has been produced the price on the open market goes down and wheat sells for less than 90 cents a bushel. In that case the farmer can do better dealing with the government.

He gets a government loan of 90 cents a bushel for his wheat. If the price of wheat on the open market goes up above 90 cents, he sells his wheat and repays the loan. It it stays below 90 cents, he keeps the 90-cent loan and lets the government keep the wheat.

On six basic crops — wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, and peanuts — the government must, under present law, guarantee farmers 90 per cent of parity. On some other crops - still according to law — the government can fix this support price at anywhere from 75 to 90 per cent of parity or even zero to 90 per cent.

The Eisenhower administration says there should be more flexibility, particularly in the case of those six basic crops which now are protected by a guarantee of 90 per cent of parity.

The theory is this: in times of surplus, the guarantee can drop as low as 75 per cent of parity to discourage production; and in time of scarcity it can be raised as high as 90 per cent to encourage production.

The House on Friday voted to let the guarantee range somewhere between 82½ and 90 per cent on the basic crops and at other figures on some other crops. This isn't final unless the Senate approves. It may not.

The era of the specialist has in some manner changed the lives of everybody. Its effect is reflected in practically everything with which people come into contact. It has even speeded up nature.

This is as true of communication as it is of medicine, science and transportation. The newspaper is a notable example, which only an old practitioner can appreciate. So how can the populace realize what has happened to its daily reading in a single generation

It is hard to believe how recently the newspaper was the only means of mass communication, and the fastest. It took centuries to advance from the signal fire to the telegraph. Now a year can outmode the newest communication gadget.

Today any housewife with a $12 radio is days and weeks earlier abreast of world news than were Greeley, Bennett and Dana; and hours ahead of editors still living. Anna in her kitchen gets news quicker than I got it at the telegraph desk 40 years ago. So, why has the newspaper survived?

—:—

THE ANSWER proved as great a surprise to newsmen as to their readers, who supplied it. The impact of the news, the surprise element in it, the "scoop," never could have been the genuine excuse for or the main function of the newspaper; else it could not have survived.

For in the face of the dramatic communication progress that threatened to destroy it, the newspaper has grown amazingly in demand and acceptance; increased 30 per cent in circulation.

To its own amazement the newspaper discovered that to be "first-est" was less important than to be "mostest"; that all of the time it had been the so-called secondary "followup" of the news that was the real life blood of the newspaper.

The newsroom has not forsaken the "scoop," but it has deserted it as an idol, moved it into second place. The specialists and analysists have taken over.

The reading public has established that thoroughness, verification and interpretation constitute the "scoop" that counts. Newspapers lived on that very diet—and didn't know it. Back when the "scoop" was king, the followup was creating the solid foundation upon which today's newspaper flourishes.

To be surprised or astounded turns out to have been the "loss leader"; comprehensiveness, the real package.

IT DEVELOPS that "why" sells more newspapers than "what," when, where"—and always has.

It had never seemed important to analyze, for example, why sports fans pore over news reports of events they attended; a ball game or a fight which they witnessed.

Why buy a paper; they saw it all with their own eyes, who can tell them more?

Sure, they saw, but did they correctly? Was that a hit or an error, was that a low blow in the fourth round; what do the trained experts say about it?

They are uncertain about something they saw or they want the inside dope on their favorite sport. They can't get this from screens or ringside. So they read it, perhaps preserve it.

They know the result, but they want the why of it, as do readers who already know what happened in Asia, Washington and Timbuktu.

IT IT the everlasting desire of people to be thorough about things that interest them—not just that they happened. It is true of all phases of the news.

That is why radio and television sell newspapers. They are the news bulletins, the flash extras of yesterday. They create the urge to know more, to be specifically informed—to read about it.

The modern newspaper is the specialist of specialists in news interpretation. In that, as in hometown coverage, it still is first—and tops.

Daily Bible Thought

The Lord is speaking all the time, but he does not intrude on persons who are not deeply interested. "All that the Lord hath said will we do, and be obedient." — Ex. 24:7.

The charge against Dr. Oppenheimer is that he wasn't enthusiastic about the hydrogen bomb, and his observer must admit that the prospect of its use doesn't exactly have him tossing our hat in the air.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Lawyers and the Clam-Up

This we really want to see . . . a client being told by his lawyer that to give the newspapers and public information which might be of help to him can't be done because it is unethical! Yet it would seem possible under a code approved by the New York State Bar Association with a suggestion that the American Bar Association follow suit. The new rule comes out for suspending or disbarring a lawyer who freely discusses with newspapermen in the old-fashioned manner the full circumstances of the case.

-:-

Can you imagine the situation when a man, arrested in perhaps some sensational case, cites some important facts to his mouthpiece:

Client — I'm giving you some vital information that will be a big help to me.

Lawyer — Shush! Not so loud! Somebody might hear you.

Client — Whaddaya mean somebody might hear? My arrest has been played up big in the newspapers and I've been put in a bad light. I want my side in the news.

Lawyer — I'm afraid it might influence the judge and prevent a fair trial.

Client — One of us must be nuts. I want a fair trial, of course, but first of all I want to get set right with my relatives and friends.

Lawyer — Sorry, but I can't be a party to any complete presentation of your story in the public press. It's UNETHICAL, my boy, UNETHICAL!

Client — What happens to you for being unethical

Lawyer — I can get disbarred or suspended for any press statement.

Client — Disbarred! Suspended! Listen, mister, I can get 20 years in the hoosegow for the lack of a press statement. Something's screwy here.

Lawyer — The Bar Association has spoken. There mustn't be a word of publicity.

Client — Do you realize what that can do to my future

Lawyer — Brother, do you realize what it can do to MINE!

We can't get too excited about the Bar Association code. Lawyers from the beginning of time have been better than fair hands as publicity seekers. The importance of getting their names on the front pages has never been minimized by them.

To get anywhere in his profession, as in most others, an attorney has to make a name for himself. And it is not made by putting a "DO NOT DISTURB" sign on the office door when the press is knocking; or by issuing statements by smoke signal and hiding a light under a bushel. "Gangway, buster!" is the slogan of many a mouthpiece facing opposition when he told the newspaperman are waiting. Name 25 famous attorneys and we will name at least 20 who got there by playing ball with the public and the press, and by realizing that a lawyer's picture on the first page is pretty wonderful.

How many judges do you know (and we mean even on the top courts) who have always said, "Beat it! I don't want my client or myself in the newspapers." Plenty of them are there because they knew the value of publicity and never doubted that the public had a right to get into the act.

Suspend and disbar the counsellors who play ball with the press of America?

Wanna bet?

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — With the town hall at Tarrytown, N.Y. under a heavy guard of police and extra men on duty in the street to prevent any demonstration, trial of the IWW agitators who picketed the John D. Rockefeller estate was postponed on application of counsel for the men and women until July 20.

20 YEARS AGO — Nazi vigilance against revolt was resumed with disquieting reports that "something more is brewing" among friends of liquidated Nazi leaders.

Bayonets bristled along San Francisco's blood-stained waterfront as two thousand National Guardsmen patrolled the area where 34 persons were shot down, at least two of them fatally wounded by police gun fire. Scores were gassed, beaten and trampled during the Pacific coast maritime strike.

Mme. Marie Curie was buried at Sceaux, France.

Outbreaks of violence were virtually at an end in the turbulent Scioto marsh strike zone, officials declared in announcing the immediate withdrawal of a portion of their force of special deputies who had been on duty since June 28.

Urging that action on Marion's request for a $2,330,000 PWA loan and grant be speeded up, a letter was sent to Senator Robert J. Bulkley at Washington, D C., by Mayor C. A. Bolin.

10 YEARS AGO — German flying bombs had killed 2,752 persons and wounded 8,000 others since blind robot attacks, centered on London, started three weeks previously, Prime Minister Churchill disclosed to the House of Commons.

Two hard-fighting columns of the American First Army plunged southward beyond besieged La Haye Du Puits both to the east and west, outflanking this western anchor of the enemy's Normandy line while other troops battled inside the town itself after capturing the railway station nearby half a mile to the north.

Cannon Salute Disables Winning Yacht in Race

BOSTON (AP)—When Francis Leblanc's yacht Glee won a race in the South Boston Yacht Club's holiday regatta yesterday, the judges' boat fired a small cannon in salute—and the wad encasing the powder charge went right through the Glee's sail.

Leblanc said the wad missed him and his two-man crew by inches and "scared the life out of us. We'll probably have to buy a new sail."

He said the mishap occurred because the cannon had been pointed across the finish line instead of away from it.
